EVERY SUIT AND BOYS' Overcoat is from $1.50 to $3.50 less in price. That's your saving. The Mothers and Boys are united in their delight. The excellence of our Boys' Clothing deserves their praises. Even the $3.50 Suits are to be admired; the fitting so perfect, the designs pleasing. The $5.00, $6.00 and $8.00 ones are simply superb.

The way we're selling Overcoats is immense. A customer who has been dealing with us twelve years brought a friend in Saturday to buy an Overcoat. He bought a fine Kersey that we're now selling for $18, winter weight. The old customer said: "That's the best Overcoat I ever saw for the money. I don't know how in the world you can sell them for that and make any money." We don't make any money. It's the $25 coat of a year ago that we're now selling for $18. So on through our big housefull of Suits, Fall Overcoats, Winter Overcoats, Ulsters, Storm Coats and Boys' Clothing. We're working hard to do business without thought of profits.

THE COMING MESSAGE

President Cleveland Has Begun the Preparation of His Annual Message for the December Session.

State Department Matters Will Be of Unusual Interest, Embracing the Policy as to Hawaii.

Of Course There Will Be Extended Reference to the Tariff and Also Some Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The White House will probably see very little of President Cleveland between now and Monday, Dec. 1, when congress reconvenes in regular session. Most of the intervening time will be spent at Woodley in the preparation of his annual message. The president finds he can work there to much better purpose than in the executive office, for though many senators and representatives have left the city, enough remain behind to make the pressure upon him for the numerous important appointments still unmade, something to be avoided as far as possible.

Nearly all the cabinet officers are well advanced with their reports which will form the basis of the president's recommendation in dealing in department matters. It is understood that each officer in turn will probably be a guest at Woodley. Secretary Carlisle has already had one whole day at Woodley every evening consultations. Postmaster General Russell frequently drives out there in the pleasant evenings, and Col. Lamont is a constant visitor.

State department matters this year will be of unusual interest, embracing as they will the Hawaiian policy of the administration, of which it is confidently expected some authentic announcement will be made for the information of the general public and the stirring incidents in Brazilian waters.

Finances will necessarily come next—the tariff first, of course. Mr. Carlisle has been endeavoring in every brief respite that the silver fight has given him to get together in a succinct form a tabulation of facts and recommendations to be handed by the president on this topic. After that, Mr. Carlisle's recommendation in dealing with the president's recommendations which he practically promised in his special message to the extra session, as to that "other legislative matter" which is necessary to "put beyond all doubt or mistake the intention or ability of the government to fulfill its pecuniary obligations in money universally recognized by all civilized countries." This portion of the message will be looked for with much interest.

FREEDMEN'S AID SOCIETY.

Reports of the Work Done by the Southern Education Society.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 6.—Bishop F. N. Nindé presided this morning over the opening session in the Central Avenue church of the annual conference of the general committee of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society. Thirty delegates responded to the roll call and devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. Pearne, of Hillsboro, O.

The annual report of the operations of the society was read by Rev. Dr. J. C. Hartwell, of Cincinnati. It set forth that the work of the year had been very successful, its extent being embraced in this summary:

Among colored people—Schools, 23; teachers, 229; students, 588; property, $1,183,000. Among white people—Schools, 23; teachers, 116; students, 3257; property, $625,800. The expenditures of the society for the year ending June 30 aggregated $367,750 and the treasury was overdrawn $2000 on that date. The report was discussed at length by the delegates.

SHE KILLED HER HUSBAND.

Fatal Result of a Quarrel Caused by Jealousy.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—Mrs. John Miner, living at No. 910 Morgan street, shot and killed her husband this morning. Mrs. Miner had suspected her husband of infidelity and the couple frequently quarreled. They were lying in bed at 6 o'clock this morning and the quarrel was renewed.

Miner struck his wife several blows and the latter sprang out of bed with the exclamation: "You'll never strike me again." She seized a revolver lying on the dresser and before her husband could prevent her she fired a 38-caliber bullet through his heart. He fell back across the bed and died almost instantly. Mrs. Miner was arrested and expresses no grief over the death of her husband.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

A Traveler For an Ohio Company is Missing.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—Last Tuesday, J. D. Wilkes, traveling representative of the Lima, Ohio, Register company, left his apartments at the Stoddard house here. The following day a telegram was received from East St. Louis, saying Wilkes was going East. Telegrams from Lima state that he has not arrived there. Inquiry at East St. Louis shows that Wilkes has not been there. The police are inclined to believe that Wilkes has met with foul play and that the telegrams were sent to throw the officers off the track.

The Dreubund's Fleet.

ROME, Nov. 6.—The Italian government has proposed that naval squadrons of Germany, Austria and Italy hold a combined demonstration in the Mediterranean.

Sir Andrew Clarke Dead.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Sir Andrew Clarke, the well-known physician, died at 430 o'clock this afternoon.

SPEAKER CRISP'S VIEWS.

The Tariff Bill Will Be Ready For the December Session.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Charles F. Crisp, speaker of the house of representatives, arrived at the Palmer house last night. He is accompanied by his young son. In speaking of the repeal fight, Mr. Crisp said:

"It was a long and weary struggle and everybody was glad when it was over and congress could adjourn and a rest could be taken. As far as the house was concerned, it was simply waiting to see what the senate would do. Of course, the bill only being passed last Thursday, I can't say what the effect will be exactly, but the majority of the business men of the country seem to think the unconditional repeal was the thing needed at present."

"The house will have some very important legislation before it at the beginning of the regular session in December. Mr. Wilson's committee will have its report ready at an early day. The sub-committee has already decided on the rates in the schedule, and the general committee will consider them some time next week. I believe Mr. Wilson's committee will recommend a reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis, in accordance with the declaration of the national Democratic platform. The tax on refined sugar may be reduced considerably, but the tax on whiskey is 92 cents, and say it is increased to 1 cent on whiskey will add $1,000,000 to the revenues. The present tax on whiskey is 92 cents, and say it is increased to $1.20 that would mean an increase of $200,000,000 to the revenues of the government."

Speaker Crisp said that besides the tariff bill, the house would come to a vote on a bill to take off the 10 per cent tax on state banks.

Mr. Crisp said the Democrats might lose a few votes in some sections of the South on account of the passage of the tariff bill, but he did not think it would amount to anything serious, as the South generally believed in the Democratic party.

Mr. Crisp is on his way home to Georgia, but he came by way of Chicago simply to see the architectural beauties of the fair before they are destroyed, as he has not been able to visit the fair before.

PLANS FOR THE BATTLE.

Mitchell and Corbett Will Probably Fight in Florida.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A special to the Herald from Jacksonville, Fla., says: In accordance with R. K. Fox's request to put up a deposit for the Mitchell-Corbett contest, the Florida Athletic association has wired him that such deposit has been made, thus completing arrangements for the battle.

Thirty thousand dollars has been raised and all arrangements made for the fight at the old sub-tropical exposition building. Harry Maynard, president of the new Sub-Tropical Exposition company, is in the North completing details. The date for the fight has not yet been decided upon, but it will probably be scheduled for December.

WAS TORN TO PIECES.

A Laborer Run Over by an Electric Car in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—John Kelleher, a laborer, living at No. 1230 Spruce street, was torn to pieces by a Lindell railway electric car on South Fourteenth street at 6 o'clock this morning. The motor-man discovered Kelleher lying across the rails too late to stop the car, which was running rapidly.

The unfortunate man was torn to pieces. His right leg was torn from his body and his left arm pulled out of its socket. He was otherwise horribly mangled and died instantly. It is believed he fell on the track while drunk.

GOVERNOR BOIES' ILLNESS.

Has Typhoid Malaria and His Condition is Serious.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 6.—The illness of Governor Boies, which developed Saturday night into typhoid malaria, is serious according to the attending physicians. If it goes into malignant typhoid fever, as it threatens to, the result may be fatal, as the governor is not in condition to pass through a severe sickness.

Governor Boies Improved.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Governor Boies is better today. His temperature is too and his pulse is normal. He eats sufficient of liquid food and retains it.

Had Amassed a Fortune.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Capt. William McClure, at one time very largely interested in Ohio river navigation and well known in the trade all along the Ohio river, died yesterday after a brief illness in his 70th year. He amassed a large fortune and was proprietor of the McClure house, a leading hotel in this city.

The Usual Result.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., Nov. 6.—At 3:30 Sunday morning, Martin Lee, of this city, and "Jim" O'Dell, colored, of Pittsburg, fought a prizefight with skin tight gloves for a purse of $50. The fight took place in a barn opposite McKeesport in Millin township. Twenty-three rounds were fought, resulting in a draw.

The War in Morocco.

MADRID, Nov. 6.—The bank of Spain has subscribed $50,000 to the fund for carrying on the operations against the Rifians. Advances from Melilla show that the Rifians are quiet at present. Fort Camello was provisioned yesterday without any exchange of shots.

Snowing in England.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A snowstorm is prevailing today in several counties of England.

THE CHICAGO FIGHT

The Democratic Minority Alone Attended the Adjourned Meeting of the Common Council This Morning.

Every Republican Member of the Council Absent, Remaining in Their Room at the Headquarters.

The Corporation Counsel Gave an Opinion That Alderman Swift Was Not Elected Temporary Mayor.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A so-called special meeting of the Chicago common council was held in the council chamber at 11 o'clock this morning and lasted twenty minutes. When the disorderly special meeting of the council broke up Saturday, the Democratic minority declared to meet again at that hour today or rather Chairman McGillen declared the council so adjourned. But, in accordance with an agreement reached at a party caucus held previously, every Republican member of the council was absent. They remained in the party council room at headquarters.

When Chairman McGillen rapped for order he faced twenty-nine other Democrats, the full party strength, but six short of a majority. Alderman McGillen defended the action of himself and supporters at the Saturday meeting and denounced his Republican opponents, whom he declared were alone responsible for the disorder. He declared positively that he had been properly chosen presiding officer at the Saturday meeting and that Alderman Swift had not been legally elected mayor pro tem, because he lacked a majority of the votes in the council.

The only business transacted was the adoption of a motion by Alderman Powers that they meet again as a council at 5 o'clock this afternoon and instruct the sergeant-at-arms to compel the attendance of members. Policemen barred the way to who might have business in the chamber or a big political "poker" so that there was no demonstration. Twenty minutes are expected at the regular meeting of the city fathers tonight.

Corporation Counsel Kraus, after consultation today with ex-Corporation Counsel Miller, the representative of Alderman Swift and the Republicans, prepared an official opinion on the question of election which differs radically from the opinion which he is said to have given to the newspapers. The substance of it is that there was no legal choice for mayor pro tem because Alderman Swift received more than a majority of the full council vote. He asserts also that his opinion is not given as the representative of his party.

Chief of Police Brennan has instructed all officers to keep out of the council chamber whenever that body is in session and to enter only when summoned by the sergeant-at-arms to guard the entrance to the chamber from the public.

MILWAUKEE BANK CASES.

Judge Jenkins Gave Bonds Today For His Appearance.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—Just before the municipal court met today Judge Jenkins, of the United States circuit court, appeared in the clerk's office and signed bonds aggregating $20,000 for his appearance under the old and new grand jury indictments charging him with embezzlement and illegal banking. His sureties are B. K. Miller, Sr. and F. G. Bigelow.

Judge Jenkins was a director in the Plankinton bank which failed last June but he paid no attention to the affairs of the bank. Argument in the habeas corpus proceedings of Eugene S. Elliott and Frank Noyes to overthrow the last batch of Plankinton bank indictments is in progress today in the circuit court.

LONGFELLOW IS DEAD.

The Greatest of American Turf Sires Died of Old Age.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 6.—Longfellow, the greatest of American turf sires and probably the most famous race horse in the world outside of England, died of colic and old age at the Nantux stock farm, in Woodford county, last night.

He was the sire of more winners and more noted race horses than any other thoroughbred stallion, native or imported, dead or living, in this country. During his twenty-one years in the stud the winnings of his get have reached over $1,000,000, and this too, despite the fact that there were no princely $50,000 fortunes or derbies among the prizes captured.

Appointments Today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The president today appointed John B. Riley, of New York, consul general of the United States at Ottawa, Ont.; Newton B. Ashley, of Iowa, to be consul at Dublin, Ireland; Gen. George D. Ruggles, to be adjutant general to succeed Gen. Robert Williams, retired.

RELIEVED FROM DUTY.

J. W. Johnson Will Not be in the Weather Service After Nov. 10.

There has been a serious row brewing in the weather office here for some time and Observer Bronson has come out on top. A short time ago he asked that his assistant, J. W. Johnson, be replaced with another man, his work not being satisfactory. Mr. Johnson knew of this and a petition was prepared and circulated asking for his retention here. This he gave to Mr. Bronson and the latter forwarded it to the department, together with a recommendation that it be not granted and that Mr. Johnson be transferred elsewhere.

Mr. Johnson then drew up charges against Mr. Bronson and sent them directly to the department. A letter came back reprimanding him for not sending them through his chief. He sent in another batch. These charges were of an assorted nature and several well known citizens were named as witnesses. Some of the allegations were attacks on his personal character.

Inspector Conger arrived from Washington about ten days ago to investigate. They were the first charges ever preferred against Mr. Bronson in twenty years of service. The inspector called upon the persons named by Mr. Johnson and all denied the statements accredited to them. More of the charges were proven. The petition of which the impression was given that it had originated with Duluth citizens, proved to have been written on government paper on the typewriter in the weather office.

This morning a letter was received at the office here directed to Mr. Johnson, informing him that his connection with the government weather service will cease at the close of business on Nov. 10. He has not performed any duties in the office here since Oct. 10, Observer Bronson having suspended him on that date.

Says There is a Mistake.

J. M. Aiken arrived in town today in charge of Under Sheriff Armstrong and was arraigned in the municipal court this afternoon. At the time of his arrest at Moorhead he was engaged in drilling a class of young ladies for a church entertainment. He claims that there is a mistake and that the wrong man has been arrested.

Dan Coughlin's Trial.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The trial of Dan Coughlin was resumed before Judge Tutill this morning with three candidates for jurymen in the box. They were John E. Parr, Neal Lehman and O. N. Caldwell, who had been temporarily passed by the state. Parr did not retain his seat long, being challenged by the state for cause. This left but two men passed by the state. The work of securing a jury is slowly proceeding.

Trial Postponed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The trial of Prendergast, the slayer of Mayor Harrison, has been postponed until Monday, Nov. 27.

PROPOSE A SCHEME.

Jobbers Have a Plan to Solve the Terminal Difficulty.

The Jobbers' union has evolved a scheme which it will present to the council as a solution of the problem: How to use a part of Railroad street for terminal purposes so as to best conserve public interests. It strongly opposes granting the street to any railroad or combination of railroads no matter how upright their purposes may be for there is no assurance that they will continue to be permanent owners or that self interest may not in the future conquer the upright motives.

It is therefore suggested that at the next session of the legislature a law be passed creating a coordinate branch in the city government, similar to the board of Park commissioners, to be known as the "Board of Terminal Railway Commissioners," this board to consist of the railroad commissioner or some city officer chosen by the council, and one member from the board of trade and one from the jobbers union. This commission is to be empowered to build and maintain terminal tracks on Railroad street and such other streets as may be deemed advisable, all such lines to be held in trust for the benefit of the public. The commission would regulate the rates to be charged, all to be computed on a wheclage basis, and to collect them and pay operating expenses, the balance going into a sinking fund to pay off the bonds.

But as more than a year intervenes between now and the meeting of the legislature, it is suggested that a board of Terminal railway trustees, consisting of the railroad commissioner, president of the board of trade and president of the jobbers union, be organized and be given a franchise to build a terminal track on such street, to be held in trust for the public and to be turned over to the board of commissioners when it is created by act of legislature.

It is further suggested that as the law allows cities to vote bonds in aid of railroads, that a special election be held, in case any railway applies to have tracks built, and aid voted the trustees to construct it.

The Municipal Court.

In police court this morning eight drunks took their medicine like little men. William Patterson, charged by Edward Downie with appropriating to his use a livery rig without paying for the same, pleaded not guilty and had his hearing set for the afternoon session. The offense is alleged to have been committed in Feb. 1892. Peter Fischer paid $3 for an assault on Anton Kosowski and Samuel Anderson, up for assault, pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for the afternoon session.

Effect of Electricity.

The Bell Telephone company, of Boston,
has recently made scientific tests
regarding the effect of electric currents upon water and gas pipes in cities where the overhead trolley system of electric roads is in operation, from which the probable calamities in store for such cities resulting from the secret destructive electric force passing over trolley wires may be contemplated with a shudder.It has been found that underground telephone cables
are gradually and effectually destroyed
by the heavy electric currents, discharged by these electric railways, following the cables and using the cable sheaths as conductors. Serious corro-sions of the lead follow the course of the electric currents wherever they leave the metal and pass into the moist earth or into the surrounding moist air of the ducts or of the man-holes. The destructive action of the electric currents extends to both water and gas pipes as well as all other buried metal works.It is shown that sooner or later in all cities where the single trolley system is in use there will be destruction of water and gas pipes to such a degree that serious results will follow. This is not pleasant news for fire underwriters, but it is probably that some ingenious man will soon discover a mode of preventing this action on the part of the trolley system. A man in New York has so far succeeded in "harnessing" electricity that he can allow a current of 25,000 volts to pass through his body without any unpleasant results.This is made possible by a system of alternating currents produced from a machine which he has invented. Of course such a shock from any other machine would cause instant death. In view of this invention it seems very probable that a method of preventing any bad effect upon gas and water pipes
from electric currents from the trolley system will soon be discovered.Florida Should Prevent It.
A dispatch today says that arrangements are being completed for having the Mitchell-Corbett prize fight take place in Florida in December. The principals in this degrading contest have had considerable difficulty in finding a spot in America where the fight could occur, and there were strong indications that they would be forced to go to England or some other European country to decide the question of pugilistic supremacy.The thought that pugilism, with all its attendant evils has been practically driven out of America was very pleasing,
and it is with regret that the news is received that the fight may take place after all in Florida. Surely the people of that state will not permit its name to be disgraced in this manner.Can they afford to have it said that they gave protection to a degrading sport that has been condemned by every other state in the Union? Will not the governor of Florida put a veto upon this business and save the reputation of his state from being sullied.The Bridge Question.
The bridge meeting on Saturday was of a very harmonious character, and the Commercial Bridge company's bill, with several desirable amendments, was unanimously agreed to. No formal expression of opinion in favor of any one company was made, the committee wisely confining its work to recommending a suitable bridge bill. It is a fact, however, that the Commercial company's bill was largely followed, because it is the only bill now before congress that provides for a combination bridge.

It is hardly likely, in view of these exhibitions of unanimity by Duluth and Superior in support of a combination bridge, that any senator or representative will continue to oppose that form of a bridge.

A Reformation Needed.

Football has long been regarded as a delightful, healthful and clever sport, and its admirers have become legion. It is in a fair way, however, to be tabooed by all except the rougher classes, because within the last few years it has developed into a decidedly dangerous amusement. It has largely ceased to be a game where skill and clever work count for something and has degenerated into a rough and tumble fight, wherein eyes are blacked, noses broken,
limbs dislocated and not infrequently more serious injuries inflicted.On Saturday in a football game at Delavan, Wis., one of the players was killed by his neck being broken. On the same day, Duluth was the scene of a distressing accident at football game that nearly caused instant death and may yet have very serious results. Both these accidents are the direct results of the rough manner in which the game of football is now being played. There is no good reason for playing it in this manner, and an early reform is necessary or the game will be killed entirely.Properly played, football is a health-giving exercise and a pleasant sport that would attain great popularity, and it will be a pity if it is crushed out of existence.
If a reformation in the existing rules and mode of playing be not made soon, that will be the inevitable result.

The St. Cloud Journal Press says: "J.

Adam Bede, the famous Duluth humorist, announces himself a candidate for United States marshal. As he says he expects to get there by the assistance of Congressman Baldwin, it is safe to assume that joking Adam is still at his old tricks." The St. Cloud paper is seriously mistaken. This is no humorous idea on the part of Mr. Bede, although he would consider it a very rich joke if he secured the plum.The Illustrated Buffalo Express announces the conditions of its Third tisers of the country find the Express

HARMONY PREVAILED

The Joint Committee Agreed on the Form of Bridge Bill Which Ought to Pass.

An Amendment Adopted to the Effect That Pedestrians Shall Be Charged No Toll.

Committee Is to Be Continued to Act Unanimously in Securing Larger Harbor Appropriations.

The joint committee meeting from Duluth and Superior held Saturday afternoon was enthusiastic and harmonious and resulted in the approval of a form of bill which will be, it is claimed, unobjectionable to all parties in interest.

After deciding to receive certain proxies offered a short recess was taken and the sub-committee, through J. A. Higgins, reported the proposed measure. It was distinctly stated that it was not proposed to endorse any particular bill now before or to be introduced into congress, but for convenience sake the bill of the Commercial company had been taken as a basis for this measure, as being the only one that provides for a combination bridge.

Mr. Higgins then read the amendments, which were not different from those outlined in Saturday's Herald.

Allerman Atkinson, of Superior, for the purpose of getting the matter before the meeting, moved the reception and adoption of the report. Assemblyman E. G. Mills, of Duluth, arose and made a plea on behalf of the people. The proposed bill did not provide free transit for pedestrians and horse vehicles, and it should. There were many laboring men living on Connor's and Rice's Points who would want to walk across the bridge and they should be permitted to do so without charge. The people, through their representatives in congress, were giving the franchise to a corporation which sought it with the avowed intention of making money. It was right that the people should have some compensation and reserve to themselves the freedom of the bridge.

Mr. Mills pointed out that the Northern Pacific bridge was a money making concern and that doing the same amount of business at the same rates the new bridge could make expenses, interest and $50,000 a year on its railroad business alone.

L. A. Barber took exception to Mr. Mills' figures and said the Northern Pacific rates were only 15 or 20 cents per car, instead of $1.00.

H. H. Grace, of Superior, was willing to second Mr. Mills' motion so far as it applied to foot passengers, but "horse vehicles" left the way open for "horse railways."

Mr. Grace agreed with Mr. Mills on general principles, but thought there should be at least for non-residents at the start. It thought best by the owners, as business was bound to be light at the start, to admit free transit to individuals should put great strain into a structure where they were tied hand and foot.

Frank A. Ross said the matter of tolls was the only classic feature in the bill. He admitted, however, when queried by Judge Morris that the feature was not classic enough to admit free transit at any time; the terms of the clause required some toll, though it might be only 1 cent.

Mr. Mills amended his resolution to cover only pedestrians and then Mr. Higgins brought down the house by requesting the passage of the amendment on behalf of the Commercial Bridge company. Mr. Ross asked for the same action and there was more laughter and applause. Mr. Woodward seconded the request on behalf of the people of Superior.

A motion to lay the whole matter on the table for a week or two, on the ground that congress has adjourned and there is no longer need for haste, was lost. Then the bill was approved without a dissenting vote.

An effort to pass a resolution asking Minnesota and Wisconsin senators and representatives in congress to vote for the measure almost precipitated a scuffle. "To head off a fight between rival bridge companies," said Mr. O'Hare, "I will move to adjourn."

He withdrew his motion, however, to enable Capt. McDougall to speak. The captain was glad to see the harmony that had prevailed and called attention to the need of united action to secure abundant harbor improvements. At his suggestion a resolution was passed continuing the present creating a similar joint committee to consider such matters.

The meeting then adjourned with the best of good feeling on all sides.

His Head Severed.
Frank E. Burns, a single man aged 23 years, employed on the Eastern Minnesota as brakeman, was instantly killed near the Imperial mill Saturday night. Burns was lying on the top of a car and got up and walked off the end of the car. His head was completely severed from the body. Coroner Eklund decided that no inquest was necessary and the remains were taken to West Superior.

In Olden Times
People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

Lillian Kennedy.
Tomorrow evening Lillian Kennedy will be at the Temple in her new play "She Couldn't Marry Three." She herself is a revelation and a refreshing change in these days of stale, unprofitable trash. Miss Kennedy has never been so well cast before, her merry twinkling foot, her cheery liquid voice and sunny temperament lend themselves naturally to such a character as Miss Kennedy, the fisherman's daughter, in this new drama of the Cornish coast. As the simple-hearted and faithful daughter of an old mariner, Miss Kennedy is seen at her very best, and the quality of her acting is happy circumstance in this wholesome and truthful representation of sea shore life. The play itself is mounted without regard for expense, and besides being permeated with the life-giving savor of the sea, has lots of excitement and action in it.

Chaplain McCabe's Lecture.
Chaplain C. C. McCabe will talk of "The Bright Side of Life in Prison" at the First M. E. church tomorrow evening. The chaplain is one of the missionary secretaries of the Methodist Episcopal church, and a busy man, but he takes time to occasionally lecture, giving the proceeds to disabled soldiers and other benevolent purposes. He is a most popular lecturer. His subject is a one that naturally proves striking as, from all accounts, life in that famous prison would seem to have no bright side. The chaplain speaks from experience, having spent four months within its walls. Those who are bringing him here feel safe in guaranteeing not only an exceedingly entertaining lecture, but one which will be an educator, especially to the young. People are drifting so far from this way that the actors are passing away and the young men and women of today do not know and feel the dread of realities which were paid the price of our present national integrity. The G. A. R. posts of Duluth will attend the lecture in a body and occupy seats in the center of the church.

The Band Concert.
If the attendance at the band orchestra concerts at the Lyceum does not increase considerably over that of yesterday, Duluth's City band, of which every body always speaks with pride, will be a thing of the past. When Professor Meier was around selling tickets and explained to the citizens that it was desired to raise $1,000 for twelve concerts, he was told that Duluth would raise two or three times that if necessary and yet these same people were conspicuous for their absence yesterday. The Lyceum is now charging for the actual expenses in the way of lights, ushers, etc., the newspapers have advertised the concerts free and it would not seem to be asking too much when it is expected that 600 people will attend and pay 25 cents.

The concert yesterday afternoon was a musical treat. The first part was by the Professor Trautvetter's orchestra, numbering sixteen men, and a brilliant program was rendered. The "Fest" overture was splendidly played and the "Empire" waltz by Strauss was exquisite. The "Quartet" from Rigoletto, by Verdi was admirably rendered, and the "concert Polonaise," including solos on various instruments, was also one of the best numbers on the program.

The City band was greeted with a round of applause as soon as the curtain rose on the second part. The "Washington Post" march by Sousa was given with excellent dash and spirit and the magnificent overture in "Martha" followed and was heartily applauded. The bandante from First symphony by Beethoven and "Pilgrim's Song of Hope" by Baptiste were beautiful numbers all though they did not catch the audience well. The "Fantasia," on Scotch, Irish and English airs, was catchy, as was also the gaily "Interlude."

Her Will Gave Her a Seal.
One day last week a large Irishwoman got into a Sixth avenue car, and the car being full, she was obliged to stand. She rode for many blocks, and then, partially resting herself on one foot and then on the other. Still no one got out. With a face that Harrison would have given $20 for she exclaimed: "Well, as long as none of yees going home, or by yees all going to ride into the next county?" "No, we are all going to see Lillian Kennedy in 'She Couldn't Marry Three.'"

Temple theater, Tuesday, Nov. 7.

School Board Meeting.
At the meeting of the school board Saturday night four members failed to appear, hence but little business of importance was taken up. Five appointments of teachers for the night schools, which open this evening, were made, and Misses Minnie Guernsey and Laura Peckham selected for teachers in regular day work. The meeting closed with a short executive session.

CHANGE IN LAND LAWS

The Radical and Sweeping Changes Proposed by the Holman Bill Which Was Recently Introduced.

Evidence That It Is an Old Bill Which Has Been Pigeonholed for Several Years.

A Complete and Careful Synopsis of the Measure Which Is of Import to Settlers.

Considerable discussion has been heard in certain circles on the Holman bill introduced in the late special session of congress. This bill makes some sweeping and radical changes in the land laws and evidently opens up the way for some changes which will come trooping along after the bill's passage, should it ever be done, which is not probable. The bill is from its phrasing evidently an old one revived and presented under a new name. There are a good many marks which practically prove that it has been in a pigeon hole for years, the most noticeable being provisions for changes which have been made and in operation for a couple of years. But, as stated, few know what the bill contains. Few copies are in Duluth and the majority of the few who have seen it do not know enough about such things to intelligently analyze the verbose phrasing of such a document. A land attorney, prominent in the practice, has made a complete and careful synopsis of the provisions of the bill. For the benefit of the public that synopsis is here presented.

The proposed law classifies all public lands into agricultural, timber, mineral, and reserved. It declares that all public lands which are chiefly valuable for deposits of iron, coal, gold, silver, copper, lead, nickel, tin, and other minerals, and also every 160 acres or less quantity in contiguous legal subdivisions, the greater part of which is unfit for cultivation, shall be classified as mineral land and disposed of under such law, unless other provision is made therefor in this law.

Iron and coal lands are put at a uniform price of $10 per acre, but no railroad or corporation formed to carry on the business of common carriers shall have a right to enter any such land or, in future, acquire by gift, purchase or otherwise, any land entered under this law, nor shall such corporations exercise any mining business in their own or any other names upon such lands so entered. As to all lands hereafter sold the United States expressly reserves the right of coal deposits, but, notwithstanding this, the purchaser may mine and dispose of coal until such time as congress determines that public good requires the legislation in relation thereto and by a general law takes control of such coal for the purpose of protecting the coal from monopoly and securing reasonable prices to the people.

When lands are to be selected, certified or patented to land companies, an agent shall personally inspect each legal subdivision and make affidavit of its non-receiver shall publish notice that such affidavit has been filed, and within thirty days anyone can come in and contest, etc. The burden of proof is placed upon the railroad company.

The bill also declares that every 160 acres, or less quantity, in contiguous legal subdivisions, the greater part of which is covered with timber of commercial value, as sawed or hewed timber, not less than ten inches at the butt, and unfit for cultivation, shall be classified as timber land. No such timber land shall be sold, but the timber of commercial value as sawed or hewed timber, not exceeding 60 acres tract shall from time to time be sold to the highest bidder on sealed proposals after appraisal for not less than the appraised value, but no person, company or corporation shall hold in any state more than four 160 acre sections. Timber not of commercial value as sawed or hewed timber growing on public land wholly unfit for cultivation shall be free for domestic use for any bona fide resident of the state.

So far as it may be practical, shade trees on lots of sub divisions of land shall be designated and reserved from sale. No person, corporation or association shall own including any purchase under this act more than 640 acres of timber at the time of the purchase. Timber is to be disposed of after publication ninety days in two newspapers in the state (one in the land district) describing tract, land office, when and where it will be received, etc. All sales shall be for cash to be paid at time of sale, but parties in the state and territories of California, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming or Idaho, can cut for six months after passage of this act under the existing laws. The timber sold on any tract shall be removed from the public domain within five years from date of sale and not afterwards, the right acquired being the ownership of timber and right to remove it in such time and the necessary use of the land incident thereto, which right shall be deemed to be personal property for all purposes including taxation. If it is found to be mineral land it shall be subject to entry as above provided, but this shall not impair the timber purchaser's right.

The public land bearing timber shall be examined to ascertain and designate the lands classified as timber land, the present force of land inspectors and three more, who shall receive $2000 per year and be appointed by the president, shall be assigned to a land commissioner and they shall appraise the timber on each forty and make proper return, but such appraisement shall not be conclusive. The president may set apart, as timber land, any public land designated as timber land, or any land covered with undergrowth, whether of commercial value or not, as public reservations, and may employ the military to protect it from waste or injury, and all provisions relating to timber land shall be subordinate to the provisions of this section. In all surveys of public lands hereafter the deputy surveyors shall note in field notes and on plats each forty bearing timber of commercial value and what portion of it does; also each forty bearing timber or undergrowth, not of commercial value and the extent thereof. Lands valuable for stone, chiefly or wholly unfit for cultivation, destitute of timber of commercial value, shall be disposed of under the present timber and stone act, so far as applicable to stone lands.

Isolated parcels or disconnected tracts of public land of less than 160 acres may be ordered sold at private or public sale at not less than $12.50 per acre, preference being given to persons residing upon or owning improvements upon such land; in absence of such improvements, such preference shall be given when practicable to owner of nearest abutting land—but before being declared isolated it shall have been open to homestead entry for three years after the surrounding country has been disposed of by the government in any manner. All lands reserved for military or other special purpose shall be disposed of under laws expressly applicable thereto.

All land unit for cultivation without irrigation and destitute of timber of commercial value shall be classified as desert land and reserved for actual settlers acquiring land so classified by irrigation, etc.

All public lands adapted to agriculture and all lands not embraced in the foregoing classifications and as herein expressly excepted and provided for, shall be classified as agricultural land and shall be reserved expressly for actual settlers under the homestead law, except as amended by this act. The new law being to reserve for actual settlers all public land adapted for agriculture and to protect timber on the public domain and it shall be so construed. All land classified as desert land may be entered under the homestead law. The qualifications of a homestead applicant and of affidavit making entry are substantially as at present. A homesteader may transfer before proof, any part of his claim for church, cemetery or school purposes, or for right-of-way for a railroad, canal, ditches for irrigation or other public purposes. A right to any mineral, desert or other land, not the benefit of the homestead and pre-emption law or who has failed from any cause to perfect title to a tract of land hereunder entered by him under either of said laws, in lieu of the pre-emption privilege hereby repealed or the homestead law, may enter contiguous tracts not exceeding in all 160 acres, or if he elect, relinquish the first entry and make a second entry of such land, and if he elect, and he shall be allowed to credit the residence and cultivation on the new entry heretofore made on the old. If a settler has made proof on any 160 acres under the homestead law prior to the passage of this act, and in good faith entered so much as will not altogether exceed 160 acres.

The local land offices may grant to settlers leave of absence therefrom for sickness, unavoidable casualty, failure of crops, climatic reasons or to secure support for himself or their dependent upon time, not to exceed one year at any time, but time of absence shall not be deducted from time actually required to perfect title. Entryman may, as now, make application to the land office to become United States circuit court commissioner, or judge, or clerk of court, or recorder of deeds, or any other public office. Within six months after entry claimant must establish residence in a home upon the land and he shall actually and continuously reside therein for five years and clear and place in cultivation at least ten acres within said period, and within two years after the date of proof of such residence and cultivation and his citizenship, thereupon shall be entitled to a patent. When claimant dies the same rule obtains as by present statute, (i. e. to widow, etc.)

It shall be unlawful to cut or wantonly destroy any timber on land belonging to the United States, or to set fire to any tree, timber or undergrowth on any timber land of the United States or willfully or negligently leave the fire burning thereon, or remove any timber or knowingly manufacture any lumber from public lands. The owner, master or assignee of a vessel, or director or agent of a railroad company who knowingly transports such timber or lumber shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished for each offense by fine not exceeding $1000, but this shall not impair the rights of purchasers of timber on public land or prevent any miner or agriculturist from clearing land for tillage or working his claim, taking the time necessary for proving his claim or selling timber necessarily felled in clearing his homestead or the mining timber for the use of the United States. And it shall be lawful always for any settler to remove, use or sell any dead or fallen timber from his claim. A strip of land two rods wide on each side of section lines is dedicated for highways and may be opened or vacated in manner provided by state legislatures, until opened it is to be considered a part of the sections.

The bill further declares a "quarter section" and "160 acres" to be all the land contained in any subdivision known as a quarter section although it may be fractional, or more or less than 160 acres. It provides for repealing the pre-emption, timber culture and desert land laws (which really was done in March 1891) and also the section of the revised statutes pertaining the commutation of homesteads.

It also repeals the section that exempts the states of Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin from the operation of the mineral land laws also all other laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, but bonafide claims lawfully initiated, may be perfected under existing laws and at a uniform price of $12.50 per acre cash or bounty land warrants. Existing laws relating to townships, swamp lands or other grants shall remain in full force.

In actions brought by land grant corporations or persons claiming under grants from foreign countries, claimant has the right to raise and interpose as a defense any mistake, error or mistaken construction of an act of congress by the department which may have resulted in an erroneous certification or patent of the land to the corporation or state for its benefit or any reservation which the attorney general of the United States might raise by bill in equity to set aside the patent or certification, but the judgment shall not be subject to the United States unless it be made a party to the litigation.

ALLEGED DISHONESTY

Receiver F. A. Patrick Makes Some Ugly Charges Against Charles S. Epling, the Insolvent Grocer.

Asks the Court to Restrain the Insolvent's wife from Selling or Transferring the Lease.

Also Charges Him With Having Concealed and Disposed of Money to Defraud His Creditors.

F. A. Patrick, receiver of C. S. Epling, has begun suit against Hedwig L. Epling, wife of the insolvent, asking that she be restrained from transferring or disposing of the lease of the store occupied by Epling. Judge Lewis has granted a temporary injunction.

From the petition and affidavits it appears that John H. Brigham owns the premises occupied by Epling. The receiver had been $25 per month. After considerable negotiation it was agreed that the rent should be $150 per month from Oct. 1. When Brigham came to make out the lease it was requested that it be made out to Mrs. Epling. The receiver charges that this was in contemplation of insolvency and with intent to defraud creditors; that Mrs. Epling never paid any rent.

It is further charged in the petition that the books show that on Sept. 1, Mrs. Epling had cash on hand $204.51 and between that time and Oct. 1, the day he assigned, he received $2,881.55, expending only $371.55; and there are should have had left $750.00, whereas the insolvent claimed to have only $125.

The complaint in the suit states the liabilities at $10,000 and assets $13,000, and alleges that not over 70 cents on the dollar has been paid to creditors. The complaint also alleges that Epling has concealed or disposed of over $500 with intent to defraud creditors.

In the same matter an order has been made permitting the receiver to advertise for bids for the stock until Nov. 10. Other papers filed in Clerk Sinclair's office this morning are as follows:

A. Costello against W. C. Doherty et al., mandate from supreme court affirming order of lower court in favor of defendants.

PLAYING THE BABY ACT.

N. W. Harris & Co. Trying to Back Out of Their Bond Bid.

N. W. Harris & Co., the brokers who made such a flattering bid for the $200,000 issue of bonds at the council meeting last Monday night, are playing the baby act and now decline to stick to their bargain. Saturday night the city clerk received a telegram stating that the firm's attorney, C. B. Wood, had declared the bonds clearly unauthorized and declared the deal off. This morning a copy of this Mr. Wood's opinion as follows was received:

"I have examined the additional documents submitted in connection with the proposed issue of general fund bonds of the city of Duluth, Minn., to the amount of $200,000, dated Nov. 1, 1893. This record now shows that the city has a debt over $200,000, evidenced by warrants drawn against the permanent improvement fund, a portion of which it is proposed to retire to fund by the issue of these bonds. In my opinion this cannot be done."

"Because there is no authority to be found in the charter which, in express terms, provides for the issue of funding bonds, and I am clearly of the opinion that no such authority is to be implied for the provisions of the charter."

"It may possibly be claimed that section 103 of chapter 1 of the charter confers authority for the issue of $100,000 of bonds for the permanent improvement fund, but this power has been once exercised by the issue of such bonds under date of Aug. 15, 1887, and the power to make the issue is therefore exhausted and cannot again be exercised."

"It is true that the charter of the city expressly authorizes the issue of general fund bonds, but this does not authorize the city to issue warrants on even that fund in unlimited amount and then retire them by the issue of bonds. The ordinance must be specific and order the issue of general fund bonds for some definite and proper purpose, as, for instance, to build a city hall."

"This record further discloses the fact that the warrants issued on the permanent improvement fund and which it is now proposed to fund, were in fact issued to contractors to pay for improvements, and which special assessments were or are to be levied. The city is therefore in the position of saying, 'We have issued the contractors $245,000 of warrants, payable out of the permanent improvement fund. Now let us proceed to collect special assessments to pay these warrants and as money is needed for city purposes, let us proceed to issue bonds, due thirty years hence, for the ostensible purpose of paying $200,000 of these permanent improvement fund warrants.'"

"I cannot too severely condemn this proceeding. Such a gross violation of municipal power as the attempted issue of these bonds has rarely come to my notice. My opinion, therefore, is that this proposed issue of bonds is absolutely void and I decline to approve them."

City Attorney Greene says that he considers the opinion not only fully founded, but frivolous. Judge Dickinson this morning also looked into the matter and expressed an opinion that Mr. Wood's opinion would not hold water, and that, in fact, he must have been told by his clients that an adverse opinion would be expected. It is highly probable that a written opinion in the matter from Bilson, Congdon and Dickinson will be presented to the council tonight.

If the council fails to hold N. W. Harris & Co., to their offer, it is probable that the financial committee will recommend the acceptance of the bid of Blake Bros. of Boston, who bid 1.0375 per cent. The Duluth Deposit Loan and Trust company's bid was par and an agreement to waive all legalities.

WILL OPEN TOMORROW.

Bethel Restaurant Will be Ready for Business—Bill of Fare.

The Bethel's new restaurant will be opened at dinner time tomorrow and hereafter laboring men and women and others will have the chance to get a clean and wholesome meal at a mere nominal cost.

The room formerly used as the coffee house, but of late devoted to the kindergarten, help the committee to knit, and others will have the chance to get a clean and wholesome meal at a mere nominal cost.

An opening has been made to the chapel in the rear and a curtain partition of about one-third of that apartment for the dining room. The kindergarten is moved into the other side of the chapel, and in case of a rush at dinner time tables can also be spread in the room. The cooking is done upstairs and sent down on a dumbwaiter to the steam serving table.

Patrons go to the serving counter, give their order, help themselves to knives, fork and spoon, settle for the meal, carry it to a table and eat it. The meal is served on one or two plates according to the food ordered. Cut up and sugar is kept on the serving counter for patrons to help themselves. Tables for ladies are reserved in the front part of the room and their dishes will be placed on a tray for more convenient handling.

The bill of fare is as follows: Soup with crackers or bread, 3c; meats 3c; eggs, 3c; vegetables, 1c and 2c; pork and beans, 3c; cold ham, 5c; bread and butter, 3c; rolls or doughnut each, 1c; coffee, tea or milk, 3c; oatmeal, 3c; cakes, 5c; pudding or pie 3c; fruits, 1 and 5c.

Shoes at Your Own Price.

The Van Baalen shoe store, which has been closed for the past few days on account of the fire in the basement of the store, reopens tomorrow morning, and as Mr. Van Baalen said this morning, things look a little smoky, but that was about the only damage done, still the stock will have to be sold for what it will bring before we refit the store. As everyone knows, the Van Baalen stock is made up of only the best makes of both ladies' and gentlemen's shoes, and it will be found a profitable time to fit up for the winter.

The Terrible Dynamite Explosion in Spain Resulted in One Thousand Dead, Missing and Wounded.

Bodies of the Victims Were Crushed and Mangled and Many Will Never Be Identified.

Divers Employed to Recover Bodies in the Bay, Appalled at the Number, Quit Work.

In the Great Confusion no One Attempted to Save Those Thrown Into the Water.

MADRID, Nov. 7.—The latest details concerning the terrible disaster at Santander on Friday last show that the number of dead, missing and wounded is fully 1000. The people have not yet recovered from the effects of the catastrophe and are entirely apathetic, paying no attention to business, but standing about the streets discussing in low tones the awful calamity that has befallen the city. Men and women living near the water front, who, providentially escaped from the wrecking of their homes, can be seen in numbers standing near the huge masses of debris that fill the streets, waiting to recover the bodies of those that are known to be under the ruins.

The scenes everywhere in the vicinity of the destruction which was wrought by the exploding dynamite are sad in the extreme, and whenever a body, crushed and mangled beyond recognition, is removed from the ruins a heartrending wail goes up from the women who fear that the shapeless mass of flesh may be all that remains of one of their loved ones. There is no doubt that many of the dead will never be identified.

Senor Gamazo, who at once proceeded from Madrid to Santander, when the extent of the calamity became known, is doing everything in his power to awaken the authorities to the fact that they must arouse themselves and set about repairing the damage the city has suffered. As soon as he arrived he summoned the town officials and expressed to them the sympathy of the government. He also assured them of the sympathy of the queen regent who, he said, had wept upon hearing of the calamity that had befallen the thriving town.

When Senor Gamazo saw how helpless the authorities were in the crisis confronting them, in a great measure, took the administration of the city into his own hands. He telegraphed at once to Valladolid ordering that medical stores, nurses and other helpers be at once sent to Santander. Some preparations for the relief of the sufferers were started and $5000 on behalf of the government through Senor Gamazo was secured.

Many of the dead were heaped in a common grave. Among the bodies interred was the headless and mutilated remains of the Marquis de Pombal. The services were attended by a huge crowd of people. Many distressing scenes were witnessed. Many of the fragments of bodies found in the vicinity of the quay were held in a common grave. The divers who were employed to recover the bodies in the bay have been so appalled at the number of the dead and gruesome appearance of the corpses that they have refused to continue their work and have prayed the officials not to insist upon their carrying out of their engagements.

The authorities granted their petition and now men in boats with grappling irons are employed in searching for the dead who were blown into the bay. Some of the bodies upon cursory examination show that death was caused by drowning and not by the shock of the explosion. It is surmised that a number of persons were rendered partially unconscious by the explosion and their bodies thrown far out into the harbor. They were conscious and not by the shock of the explosion. It is surmised that a number of persons were rendered partially unconscious by the explosion and their bodies thrown far out into the harbor. They were conscious and not by the shock of the explosion.

In fact, those near the scene were thrown into a wild panic and had no thought of saving any one but themselves. Senor Loriga, a Spanish naval officer, states that when the fire broke out on the Cabo Machichaco he, with a number of other naval officers, went alongside the steamer to lend their aid in extinguishing the flames. The commander of the port, finding that it was impossible to fight the fire with the means at hand, gave orders that the steamer be towed from the quay and scuttled.

The fire spread so rapidly, however, that it was impossible to win time. Then the commander of the port ordered that the steamer be sunk alongside the quay. Cocks were opened allowing water to flow into her, but the water entered slowly. The vessel began to sink by the head, but in the meantime the fire continued to spread, and burning fiercely.

The captain of the Alfonso XII, seeing that it would take considerable time for the vessel to sink, entered a launch with a number of his men, carrying tools to cut through the plates of the Cabo Machichaco for the purpose of giving freer access to the water. At this time Senor Loriga left the quay for a few minutes. He pushed his way through the crowd that had gathered to witness the novel spectacle of a steamer on fire. When the explosion occurred, he says, he remembers hearing a terrific roar and then he felt half a hull was warped about and he did not doubt the vessel saved his life, for as he fell a shower of rail bars, joists and other wreckage passed through the air where he had been standing, moving down the spectators like grass. The Cabo Machichaco for an instant was flung clear out of the water. The forward part of her hull was warped about and curved toward the stern, and falling back into the bay, she sank.

Senor Loriga adds that when he regained full possession of his senses he found the dead and dying lying around him in every direction. Buildings along the water front had been wrecked, and as he looked he saw a number of them tottering as the frightened inmates, with terror pictured on their faces, sought to make their escape. In some cases they had almost reached places of safety when hundreds of tons of stone and bricks came toppling upon them, and their cries of fear were suddenly hushed beneath the debris.

The air was momentarily darkened with clouds of dust, and then long tongues of flame ascended from the wrecked buildings, and in a few minutes the whole water front in the vicinity of the scene of the explosion was a mass of fire. The scene that followed passes description. The houses that were left standing had every window smashed. Roofs, many of them of tiles, had disappeared and little but the walls of the houses were left standing.

Men women and children, frantic with fear, ran aimlessly to and fro, crying, screaming and wringing their hands helplessly. The panic, terrible in its intensity, lasted for hours, and when the people realized the full extent of the disaster that had befallen them they were paralyzed.

During the night the ghouls that infest every city sneaked about the ruins, stripping the dead and wounded of their clothing and valuables. The thieves entered the dismantled houses and seized and carried off furniture and everything else that they could realize money upon. There are few families in the city that escaped without furnishing one victim.

A SENSATION AT RICHMOND.

Seymour S. Cadot Charged with Embezzlement and Forgery.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—A special to the Post from Richmond, Va., says: Seymour S. Cadot, one of the most widely known liquor salesmen in the South, having represented the Live Oak Distillery company in the state of Virginia and the city of Washington for twenty-two years, has been indicted by the grand jury of the Hustings court for embezzlement and forgery. The first indictment given of any irregularity in Mr. Cadot's accounts was about two months ago when Secretary East of the Live Oak company, came here to install a new agent.

In view of sensational publications then made in Cincinnati papers, Mr. Cadot and his friends prepared a statement explaining that the difference in accounts was due to the failure of the barrels of whiskey when delivered to agents as much as they were shipped to them. There the matter dropped, but in the last two weeks the company's agents have been working quietly to collect evidence which was laid before the grand jury.

The aggregate sum alleged in five indictments to have been embezzled is $8538.01, while the bill for forgery charges Mr. Cadot with counterfeiting a receipt to a bill of the company against A. Girolami, of this city, for $838.28.

A COMPROMISE ACCEPTED.

One Thousand Men Resumed Work in British Columbia Mines.

NANAIMO, B. C., Nov. 7.—The miners of the new Vancouver Coal company's colliery have not been at work since the last day of October, when the wage agreement between the coal company and the miners expired. The old agreement was based on a 20 per cent reduction. The company insisted on continuing at that rate and miners stopped.

A compromise agreement was submitted yesterday and accepted by the men. The new schedule is based on a 10 per cent reduction and is to continue for six months. About 1000 men resumed work yesterday.

CONFIRMED BY BAKER.

The Steamer Costa Rica Was Fired Upon by Honduras.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The report that the steamer Costa Rica was fired upon by the Honduras authorities is confirmed at the state department. A despatch was received from Minister Baker on Sunday last in which the details of the outrage were briefly given. The department is not likely to take action in the matter until a fuller report has been made by Mr. Baker. The latter is the diplomatic representative of the United States at the republics of Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Salvador. The department will probably hear from him again upon his arrival at the city of San Salvador, whither he is believed to be bound.

IMMENSE VOTE IN OHIO.

Republicans Confident of McKinley Having Over 20,000 Plurality, While the Democrats Claim Neal's Election.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—The beautiful weather is bringing out all over Ohio an immense vote which will reach up to nearly that cast for the president last year. At noon no serious disturbances had occurred in the state and nearly three-fourths of the vote was in, an event never before known. The Republicans are very confident of the election of McKinley by from 20,000 to 25,000, which the Democratic state committee will not concede but claim that Neal will have a small plurality.

There has never been an election in Ohio in which so many uncertain elements entered into the conditions. Besides the usual silver and pension questions, with state issues the American Protective association is cutting a big figure in the cities and large towns, especially in the city of Cincinnati, Toledo and other places. Then again the liquor question is a big factor at many points and may have a more important bearing than is expected. The local tickets over the state are being scratched beyond all precedent, which will delay the counts this evening. Democrats as a rule will make no bets on the general result unless given big odds.

William A. Taylor, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, said at noon that Neal would have 10,000 plurality, but Chairman Dick, of the Republican committee, laughed at this statement and said McKinley's plurality would be three times that figure.

SERIOUS ROW IN PITTSBURG.

Allegheny County Has the Blister Fight in Its History.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 7.—The weather is mild, cloudy and pleasant. Contrary to the usual order of affairs in Pittsburgh, the election started off with a number of rows at various polling places. The indications are that before the close of the day there will be more trouble, growing out of the close challenging which is being conducted by both Republicans and Democrats.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the polls in the Duquesne school house, Second district of the First ward, Pittsburgh, were closed on account of a threatened riot. Pat Farrell, in the garb of a policeman, took up his position inside of the polling place and put into practice probably the boldest game of intimidation ever practiced in Allegheny county. Each voter was questioned as to what ticket he intended depositing. Upon favorable answers he was permitted to pass, otherwise he was summarily ejected.

George Boland, a Democrat, was the first man subjected to the indignity. When called to an account for his actions by Election Inspector Schroeder, Farrell unceremoniously hustled the official into the street. Councilman McHugh, also a Democrat, called Farrell the same tactics upon Mr. Hugh but was met with a blow in the face that brought blood.

Farrell then knocked McHugh down and a general riot seemed imminent. All of the officers pushed forward and took possession of the polling place, and forcibly ejected the election board, which is Democratic, and refused to allow anyone but "ringsters" to vote. The judge of election then ordered the polls closed, and at noon they had not been reopened.

An altercation occurred in the Fifth ward, Second precinct, over an attempt to vote three men. The judge of election declined their votes on account of alleged illegality of their tax receipts. Democratic County Chairman Brennan was summoned and endeavored to have the votes admitted.

A worthy altercation followed, during which Mr. Brennan says Peter McGraw, one of the election officers, drew a knife on him. The matter was appealed to

THE A. P. A. IN ST. LOUIS.

It is Supporting Republican Candidates for School Commissioners.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—The only election held in this city today is for school commissioners. There are four tickets in the field, but the interest is centered on the Republican and Democratic candidates. The A. P. A. is making a strong fight for the election of McKinley.

ALL QUIET IN CHICAGO.

The Election or Defeat of Judge Gary the Main Feature.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Interest in the judiciary election today is centered in Joseph E. Gary, Republican candidate for re-election to the superior court bench. The socialist labor vote is arrayed against the judge, who presided at the Haymarket anarchists trial and the opposition of Governor Altgeld, who pardoned Neefe, Fielden and Schwab, is expected to keep the regular Democratic vote in line.

Early reports, however, are that there

Panton & Watson

Considerable trouble is being raised in the Third and Thirteenth wards, the details of which are not yet known. It is safe to say that no more bitter political fight was ever waged in Allegheny county than that which ends this evening.

ALL QUIET IN IOWA.

The Republicans Gaining in Des Moines but Democrats Confident.

DES MOINES, Nov. 7.—The election in Iowa is passing off quietly, although the vote polled before noon was larger than had been anticipated. The scenes about the polling places in the cities of the state are comparatively quiet. The pleasant state of the weather and the extra efforts put forth by the party central committees during the past forty-eight hours will result in a larger aggregate vote than had been expected.

The Republicans in Des Moines are making gains thus far, due to the superior organization and more general enthusiasm. The same is true in Ottumwa, Fort Dodge, Keokuk and some other cities, while the reports from Dubuque, Cedar Rapids and Council Bluffs are quiet.

Prominent Business Man of Ashland Charged by an Eau Claire Widow With Unlawful Parentage.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 7.—This morning the railroad and warehouse commissioners began the hearing on the petition of the members of the anti-coal combine committee to have the rate on coal from Duluth to St. Paul reduced from $1.50 to 75 cents per ton. The present rate on soft coal is $1 per ton, and the petitioners want this also reduced to 75 cents. Col. J. H. Davidson and J. M. Hawthorne represent the combine. The road is represented by General Manager Plough and the attorneys of the company.

The complaint is made by Mrs. Balthus, a widow at 123 Bellevue avenue. Murray's friends claim he will easily clear himself.

STRICKEN DEAD
TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.
A recent New York dispatch reads: "James C. H. —, a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed staggering while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body and pronounced death the cause of death. A peculiar and feature of the case is that Mr. H. — was on his way to Maine to settle in the home of his brother. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. If you have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Slaton, Pa.: "I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and another spells, pain in shoulders, arms, and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without result by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolges, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for sixteen months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dizziness and rheumatism. I never took medicine but for one day I used Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. I am much stronger. My appetite is splendid. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

BURNED BY WHITE CAPS.

A Court House Fired and Seventy-Five Indictments Destroyed.
BROOKHAVEN, Miss., Nov. 7.—The courthouse of this county was destroyed by fire yesterday. It was the work of White Caps. The chancery and circuit court records are a total loss. There were about seventy-five indictments pending against the White Caps, and there seems to be no doubt that the court house was burned by the outlaws for the purpose of destroying these documents.

A New Chief of Staff.
ROME, Nov. 7.—Lieut. Gen. Primarano, commander of the Third army corps, with headquarters at Milan, has been appointed chief of the general staff in the place of Lieut. Gen. Cosensio, who has been placed on the retired list. The appointment of Gen. Primarano meets with the approval of the German military authorities. Emperor William is well informed as to Gen. Primarano's views in regard to the reforms necessary in the Italian army and the improvements that should be made in the defenses of Italy and is thoroughly in accordance with them.

By the Morphine.
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—G. J. Rainer, a merchant from St. Louis was found dead yesterday in his room at the Southern hotel. Deceased had probably died sometime during the night from an overdose of morphine. Rainer, registered at the hotel Sunday and complained of being quite ill. He remained in his room and it is supposed that he took frequent doses of morphine to secure ease from pain.

Wants to Compromise.
CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—A letter has been received by Attorney Andrew Squires, for the Huntingtons, through Kelley Kellogg, of New York, in which David Payne, now a fugitive in Buenos Ayres, proposes to settle the claims against him for twenty cents on the dollar. The claims represent forged notes bearing the name of John Huntington. It is probable that the proposition will be accepted, in which event he will be free to return to this country.

An Unequalled Feat.
INDEPENDENCE, Ia., Nov. 7.—Johnson, the bicyclist, rode two single miles yesterday in 1:50 and 1:57 1/2. The last mile was only two-fifths of a second lower than the record. TO MAKE A BIG STAKE

The Scheme of a Bank President in Texas to Make a Haul by Mail Robbery.

One of His Accomplished Turned State's Evidence and Gave the Details of the Plan.

They Purchased the Stage Line and Installed a Driver Who Pretended He Was Held Up.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Nov. 7.—Deputy United States Marshal C. L. Broome and Postoffice Inspector F. M. Hamilton arrived in San Angelo Sunday night with John D. Walling, a United States mail stage driver, Charles Roe, a druggist and vice president of Coke County bank, and W. B. Buchanan, president of the same institution, of Robert Lee, Texas, under charge of complicity in highway robbery of the United States mail and conspiracy to defraud the government.

Dr. J. M. Harris, of Robert Lee, who was arrested on the same charge and who turned state's evidence, implicating Buchanan, Walling and Roe, was brought to San Angelo yesterday by a deputy United States marshal and was on the evening day giving the full details of the robbery.

About a month previous to the robbery, Harris testified, W. B. Buchanan went to him and said he knew a way that they could make a big stake. They were to first buy out the stage line and place thereon one of their own men. Then Assistant Postmaster Harris was to issue $3500 in postoffice orders on various points in the state in favor of Buchanan, which was to be collected and equally divided among the four, and on the following morning the stage driver en route from Robert Lee to Ballinger was to cut the mail pouches and scatter the mails over the prairie as if it had been done by a highwayman.

After purchasing the stage line and installing John D. Walling as driver on Oct. 5, Harris issued the money orders, the stage left Robert Lee an hour earlier so as to give the driver ample time to do his work. On arriving at Ballinger Walling reported that he had been held up at the muzzle of a Winchester, showing as evidence of his statement the cut mail pouches.

Buchanan was president of the Sutton County bank, of Sonora, which failed about six months ago, and is now operating the Coke County bank of Robert Lee, of which he is also president. Charles Roe, vice president of the bank, has a drug store at the same place in the postoffice is situated and is also deputy postmaster.

Seventy-five men refused to work unless guaranteed protection by the company. A satisfactory arrangement was not made and Anderson had the satisfaction of seeing the success of his threat. He was discharged for refusing to work on Sunday.

ENGLISH ESTATE SWINDLE.

Plan to Make Money Out of the Alleged Jennings Estate.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Age and experience fail to enlighten. The antiquated English estate swindle is merely bringing itself to the fore just as it used to do in the simple days of yore.

Up high in the Commerce building, at 14 Pacific avenue, is room 17, where Arthur E. Clarke holds forth. Now of course Arthur E. Clarke is not supposed to be a huge and gigantic swindler, but he is really mixed up in this particular deal whereby poor people sink large numbers of dollars.

The English estate swindle is clever in a way, but it is so awfully, awfully old, Tradition and history tell of vast estates in merry old England which have never been settled and which have been wrapped up in all kinds of legal complications for decades and decades of years.

Of course there are many heirs and naturally these heirs are as poor as Mr. Job's turkey, and so it furnishes a splendid opportunity for people who have a little money to pool together and furnish money enough to bring the case to an issue or to a decision. Charles Dickens unwittingly inspired this swindle in his celebrated case of Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce and English-American promoters have coined many dollars thereby throughout these long years since Mr. Dickens died. Of course the money thus pooled goes to keep the wily promoters in luxury while the investors allow themselves to be deluded with the explanation of the promise that "all will eventually be straightened up."

Of course Arthur E. Clarke is not such a base, bad man as to do anything like this, but he admits he sold many bonds at $25 and $50 apiece to poor people to raise money to bring the Jennings estate to a settlement, and admits he told the poor investors the bonds might be worth $5000 and then Mr. Clarke forgot to explain how his scheme differed from the old time swindle.

Last March Mrs. McRobertson, of 2070 Dearborn street, a poor colored woman called upon Clarke to see about a piece of property in Tolleston she had bought of Clarke when he was agitating that weird tale about the stock yards going to Tolleston. Clarke told Mrs. McRobertson all about the Jennings estate and Mrs. McRobertson consented to try to sell some of the bonds to her boarders at a percentage of 20 cents on the dollar.

Clarke told plausible story to the woman, whose experience with promoters was limited, and a few days later Miss Naher, the colored clairvoyant, invested $200 under the belief and promise of Clarke that she would make about $32,000 as soon as the case was settled. And then Mrs. McRobertson tried to collect her percentage and Clarke refused to pay her the entire commission and she was forced to accept to per cent.

Since then the case has been almost forgotten about by Clarke, but to Miss Naher and the others who lost their little fortunes, it is still vivid in memory. Mr. Clarke was visited by a reporter, and in smooth, clever talk he tried to delude his caller in the same way he did his former gullible customers. He told all about the history of the case and all that sort of thing and said he was only working on the Jennings estate for a wealthy company in St. Paul, but when his papers and he gave the names of the Minnesota mail-lionaires he carelessly talked about, he said he had more time, as his "boy is going away and I must get home and pack his trunk," and so concluded the interview.

Indictments Declared Void.
MILWAUKEE, Nov. 7.—The work of the grand jury impeached to investigate the failure of the various banks was yesterday decided void by Judge Johnson of the circuit court on the ground that the defendants were not returned within the term for which the grand jury had been impaneled.

Swift Was Elected.
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The fight in the city council over the election of a mayor pro tem ended last night. Perfect victory in which both Democrats and Republicans participated. The Democrats receded from their position entirely and George B. Swift, the Republican caucus nominee, was elected mayor pro tem.

GRANTED A FRANCHISE

West Duluth Council Passed an Ordinance Giving Rights to a New Street Railway Company.

City Attorney Phelps in an Opinion Urged Its Immediate Passage to Preclude Interference.

Trustee Olafson Wants the Gambling Houses Closed—W. J. Holmes Explains the Bond Payment Delay.

The council caused a genuine surprise last evening by passing an ordinance granting to A. A. Harris and his assigns the right to construct, maintain and operate a system of street railway in the village. A communication from City Attorney Phelps accompanying the ordinance explains its nature as follows: "Owing to the fact that I cannot be present at your meeting on Monday, Nov. 7, I have been requested by Col. A. A. Harris to submit to you a communication giving my opinion of the street railway ordinance prepared by him and which he informs me he intends to have introduced for passage by your honorable body. I have examined the ordinance carefully and revised and corrected it myself and had it rewritten so that in its present form in my opinion it is not only a legal ordinance but one which is eminently fair to the village. Many of the things contained in the ordinance of the Duluth Street Railway company which I consider unfair have been eliminated from this, and other provisions more favorable to the village have been inserted. I am of the opinion that for the good of the village and its inhabitants this ordinance should be passed immediately. It is my opinion that delay would be dangerous for the reason that proceedings might be taken by those who oppose the passage of the ordinance and who are already interested in street railways at West Duluth, to stop your honorable body from passing it at all. I would recommend that you pass the ordinance as speedily as possible."

Terms of the Franchise.
The terms of the franchise do not differ materially from the one granted the Duluth Street Railway company, with the exception of the provision made for the collection of fares and the streets upon which the lines are to be laid. The rate of fare on the street railway is to be for a continuous passage for any one person shall not exceed 5 cents. If it should be necessary for passengers to be transferred from one part of the line to another, no additional charge shall be made, except between the hours of 12 o'clock p. m. and 6 o'clock a. m., when the right to make additional charges is granted. If the line is operated in the city of Duluth the same will hold good in the matter of fares, only 5 cents being required for a continuous passage from one point on the company's line to any other point either in West Duluth or in the city of Duluth. The streets over which the line is to be built are named as follows: First, A line of single or double tracks on Grand avenue from the corner of the north shore to the westerly limits, which line shall be completed and in operation on or before the first day of November, 1893. Second, a line of single or double tracks on Oneonta or First street up Collingwood avenue to Norton avenue, thence westerly up Norton avenue to Fourth avenue west, thence south to the corner of the bay shore. The latter line is to be completed and in operation on the 1st day of May, 1895. Within forty-five days from the passage of the ordinance a proper corporation to carry into effect the provision of the ordinance must be organized under the laws of the state of Minnesota.

Routine of the Meeting.
At the meeting Trustee Olafson rose to a question of privilege and said that as his character had been assailed on the gambling question he wanted the gambling houses closed or Chief Patterson, to whom the duty of closing them had been delegated, discharged from his position. In response to his complaint President Martin stated that he had ordered Capt. Doyle in the absence of the chief to close them up.

W. J. Holmes being present was asked to explain the reason for the delay of the ordinance. He stated that he had been delayed in the East. Mr. Holmes replied that the parties who purchased the bonds had been unable to get them approved by their attorneys on account of some technicality and added that it might take some time to get them through. He stated that the money to be received from the sale of these bonds at an executive session was held.

It is understood that merchants and contractors holding village orders have been guaranteed a certain percentage from the proceeds which arrives, $10,000 to be divided among the merchants.

KNUTE MOHN'S CLAIM

The Aldermen Indulge in Some Warm Talk Over the Suspended Patrolman's Bill for Services.

City Attorney Greene Thinks the City Has Power to Abolish the Office of Railroad Commissioner.

Action Awarding the City Bonds to Harris & Co. Rescinded and Blake Bros. Receive Them.

Although last night's council session was hardly an hour in duration, the few spectators present were not without several opportunities to observe the seamy side of an alderman's life. When the small amount of business on hand was concluded it was generally conceded that the janitor and Messrs. Harris, of Chicago, had combined to give the city a subterranean roasting. As each man took his seat every face wore a look of grim and aggressive defiance.

All had read the article in yesterday's Herald relating to the refusal of N. W. Harris & Co. to accept the new issue of city bonds to the amount of $200,000, and were sullenly boiling in wrathful indignation. This overplus of caloric seemed to have an influence on the whole meeting and gave emphasis to each matter discussed.

The first thing taken up was the third-grade case of Knute Mohn, the mayor's reasons for his veto being read by the clerk. The reasons given were substantially that the claimant was in no sense entitled to the money. Alderman Dingwall sprang to his feet and asked that the $60.12 be paid anyway.

Alderman Wilson immediately got up and announced that he thought the case was a simple one. He thought there was no question as to the city's power to abolish the office if it so desires now.

Alderman Hugo moved that the report of the committee on the ordinance granting certain concessions to the Terminal Railway company be accepted and a second reading be given to it.

He was opposed by Alderman Sorenson, who thought the matter could be very well deferred one week. An eloquent speech by its advocate, however, the point, however, Alderman Hugo stating that four weeks ought to have been time enough for the committee to have been fully conversant with the measure.

Alderman Dingwall here introduced resolutions condemning the mayor's veto of Knute Mohn's salary and claimed the previous vote of the council was illegal. President Spencer declared him out of order.

City Attorney Greene could see no need or reason for the city to make a new survey of the lines round St. L. Merchant's property, though the city seemed to be a difference of six feet in the lines the city was under no obligations to resurvey.

Alderman Getty presented an ordinance to rescind the one passed in September 1931, providing for the issue of coupon water bonds in the sum of $200,000. He thought the case was to be applied care for in the special ordinance to come up next week. This relates not, as many have supposed to the duplication of the present system of water works, but to an enlargement of the same, whether the city shall purchase the system or be allowed to remain under present control. Referred to committee on finance.

An ordinance fixing the penalty of a violation of the weights and measures act at $100 fine, or ninety days in jail was also presented by Alderman Getty and referred.

Alderman Helm wished to have the ordinance awarding the $200,000 of general fund bonds to N. W. Harris & Co., Chicago, rescinded and the issue was referred to Blake Bros., of Boston, the next highest bidders.

President Spencer asked for counsel as to the probable effect of such action on the contract made with the Chicago men. City Attorney Greene replied that it would have no effect whatever, adding that the city could doubtless get judgment from Harris & Co. for the difference, some two or three thousand dollars, between the bids. The city has in every particular lived up to the bargain made and there had been no exceeding of the limitation amount. The opinion of Ballou, Congdon & Dickinson in regard to the Harris refusal was read, supporting in substance the opinion of Mr. Greene. The denial by Mr. Wood, counsel for Harris & Co. of the validity of the issue was totally without legal or technical foundation, and was clearly a poor subterfuge to escape fulfillment of the bargain. The issue was absolutely good and sound in every particular, but Harris & Co. simply wished a pretext for backing out.

A resolution was passed rescinding the former action and awarding the bonds to Blake Bros.

The plan of the jobbers union for solving the terminal problem on Railroad street was received and referred.

THE ENVOY OF KINGS.

The Princes of the Earth May Envy the Poor.

Riches and Power Cannot Make Life Pleasant or Happy.

The True Way to Find Happiness for Those Who Have it Not.

It takes a lecture on "Love, Courtship and Marriage" to draw out the young people and the Temple was well filled last evening when Professor Alexander discussed on that subject. Young men were there with their sweethearts and old men with their wives for that matter. The professor was very caustic in his talk, very caustic at times, and the young men, young women, and the married people all came in for some hard rap.

Marriage is the proper destiny of man, said Professor Alexander. The tendency of the young man today is to remain single and therefore a good many young women have to remain single. There must be a reason for this. With the young man it is that they do not want to marry because they cannot give the lady a home as fine as the one she has. He goes out to win fortune and come back and lay it at her feet. In the meantime she has married another man and he becomes embittered and says all women are false. It is better for the young people to start together and build up their home and worldly goods.

To love with the whole heart is the common expression of the day, continued the professor, but it does not constitute perfection. Love is not sentimentalism, not mere passion. It is the great power that binds the universe together. Before becoming united, the man and woman should know each other's tendencies and natural desires thoroughly and fit them to each other perfectly, they can never be happy. Opposites should marry in two which they may not be sure one. Two persons, one having a coarse and one fine nature, can never be happy. The main thing is that their qualities should complement each other. A man with small veneration should marry a woman with a large amount of it and so on. Their temperaments should be similar, so that they may have peace in common.

The character of the young and the young people should be described and the manner in which they may be distinguished was pointed out. The young men and women who trifle with another's affections received a scolding. He pleaded for a physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourth street, New York, the famous and successful specialist in curing all kinds of nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted without charge, personally or by letter.

Another widely known lady, Mrs. N. B. Blatt, of 75 Mulberry street, Newark, N. J., speaking in the same vein, says: "I have been suffering with pain in the back and head. I tried doctors, but found no relief. I was recommended to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If you are a sufferer from disease it is plain to your own eyes and ears. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is it. It is constantly prescribed and recommended by doctors. It is the discovery of a physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourth street, New York, the famous and successful specialist in curing all kinds of nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted without charge, personally or by letter.

Riches and Power Cannot Make Life Pleasant or Happy.

The True Way to Find Happiness for Those Who Have it Not.

It takes a lecture on "Love, Courtship and Marriage" to draw out the young people and the Temple was well filled last evening when Professor Alexander discussed on that subject. Young men were there with their sweethearts and old men with their wives for that matter. The professor was very caustic in his talk, very caustic at times, and the young men, young women, and the married people all came in for some hard rap.

Marriage is the proper destiny of man, said Professor Alexander. The tendency of the young man today is to remain single and therefore a good many young women have to remain single. There must be a reason for this. With the young man it is that they do not want to marry because they cannot give the lady a home as fine as the one she has. He goes out to win fortune and come back and lay it at her feet. In the meantime she has married another man and he becomes embittered and says all women are false. It is better for the young people to start together and build up their home and worldly goods.

To love with the whole heart is the common expression of the day, continued the professor, but it does not constitute perfection. Love is not sentimentalism, not mere passion. It is the great power that binds the universe together. Before becoming united, the man and woman should know each other's tendencies and natural desires thoroughly and fit them to each other perfectly, they can never be happy. Opposites should marry in two which they may not be sure one. Two persons, one having a coarse and one fine nature, can never be happy. The main thing is that their qualities should complement each other. A man with small veneration should marry a woman with a large amount of it and so on. Their temperaments should be similar, so that they may have peace in common.

The character of the young and the young people should be described and the manner in which they may be distinguished was pointed out. The young men and women who trifle with another's affections received a scolding. He pleaded for a physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourth street, New York, the famous and successful specialist in curing all kinds of nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted without charge, personally or by letter.

Another widely known lady, Mrs. N. B. Blatt, of 75 Mulberry street, Newark, N. J., speaking in the same vein, says: "I have been suffering with pain in the back and head. I tried doctors, but found no relief. I was recommended to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If you are a sufferer from disease it is plain to your own eyes and ears. WILL BE UNTANGLED.

Some Land Office Knots Will Probably be Settled Soon.

There is nothing new in the questions now claiming the attention of the officials of the local United States land office. Yesterday the attorneys practicing in this office conferred with Register Taylor, but no official results have yet been announced. Several attorneys strongly urged upon the register that he do not attempt to infringe upon the rights of the pre-emptors, and also that those rights would be carefully guarded.

Register Taylor, it is said, wishes to proceed carefully and justly in the matter, and by no means desires to do anything that will infringe upon the rights of anyone. The plan of allowing the pre-emptors to amend their filings and advertise, the same as the timber and stone applicants, has been proposed and is being considered. It is not impossible that the hitch will be untangled in that manner.

One attorney who makes a specialty of the cases of the actual settlers says that he would be satisfied with that move and that he thinks it would be just to his clients. Anyway, there seems to be a spirit of fairness among the attorneys and Register Taylor while not endorsed by all as to the steps he has taken, given full credit for a heartfelt desire to do the right thing and it is pretty certain that some day the most serious and troublesome knots will soon be untangled.

The Horning Brightens.

Things are looking much brighter at Biwabik and Merritt, according to Ransom Metcalfe, of the Mesaba Range. He says there are very few idle men there, and as it is understood that the Canton mine will start up this week with 150 men, there will be plenty of employment. Three contractors are stripping in that vicinity and altogether things look anything but very dark.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on the advice of a physician, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good they may possibly derive from them. THE DISTRICT COURT

The November Term Opened This Morning With Nearly Two Hundred Cases on the Calendar.

The Call and Classification of Cases Made—Grand Jury Was Charged and Retired.

Kate Davis Again After the Northern Pacific Road for the Value of Her Trunk.

The November term of district court began this morning with 197 cases on the calendar. There was the usual crowd of attorneys in the courtroom, nearly every firm of lawyers in the city being represented. Both Judges Lewis and Ensign were present and the call of the calendar went through at a lively rate. The cases were disposed of as follows:

For the court: 4, 7, 10, 11, 13, 17, 19, 20, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 32, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 60, 64, 65, 67, 69, 70, 71, 72, 74, 75, 76, 78, 80, 83, 85, 86, 95, 96, 97, 108, 112, 113, 117, 120, 121, 122, 123, 125, 132, 136, 138, 148, 152, 158, 162, 164, 166, 167, 168, 169, 171, 172, 173, 175, 176, 178, 179, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 195, 196.

For the jury: 5, 6, 12, 14, 15, 16, 18, 21, 23, 26, 28, 48, 49, 51, 52, 59, 61, 62, 63, 66, 68, 73, 75, 77, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 89, 90, 91, 93, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 107, 109, 110, 111, 113, 114, 116, 118, 124, 126, 127, 129, 130, 131, 133, 134, 135, 137, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 145, 146, 147, 149, 150, 151, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 159, 160, 161, 163, 165, 170, 174, 177, 181, 187, 189, 192, 193, 194, 197.

Continued—1, 2, 3, 31, 34, 35, 106, 180. Dismissed—3, 30, 33, 35, 50, 128. Stricken from the calendar—44, 46, 58, 92, 119, 188.

On the call of the grand jury nineteen were found to be present and two more had sent telegrams that they would be in court before night. The nineteen were sworn and Judge Ensign appointed W. B. Chapin foreman. His honor then delivered the charge, which was purely formal and statutory, including no special instructions. The grand jury is in session this afternoon. There are comparatively few criminal matters to come up and none of them are particularly important.

Six petit jurors of the forty subpoenaed failed to respond and Judge Ensign ordered a special venire of ten to complete the panel.

THE DAVIS TRUNK CASE.

It Bores Up Again. This Time in the District Court.

Kate Davis is suing the Northern Pacific railroad for $4995 because of a trunk lost in transit from Winnipeg to Duluth. She alleges that the trunk was duly checked and that it was lost through the carelessness and negligence of defendant. The trunk contained jewelry and fine wearing apparel valued by her at $3222.25. Suit is brought for the lesser sum probably to prevent the defendants carrying the case into the United States court. Suit for the larger amount was commenced in the latter court and was afterwards withdrawn. Ellsworth, Benham & Moer, Towne & Harris are attorneys for plaintiff.

Complaint was filed this morning in the case of the Township of Onaway against G. J. Mallory. M. L. McMinn was elected treasurer of the township March 8, 1892, and the defendant in this case was one of the sureties on his $500 bond. At the time he retired Nov. 12, 1892, it is alleged that McMinn owed the township $100.77 and for this amount Mallory is sued. Moer, Towne and Harris are the attorneys.

Other papers filed in Clerk Sinclair's office are as follows:

George M. Root against Eugene T. Merritt, order by Judge Lewis for judgment on plaintiff $1000 and interest from April 1, 1892.

James H. Swan et al, against Carl Olson et al, complaint in suit to quiet title. Schmidt & Reynolds plaintiffs' attorneys.

Frost Manufacturing company against Noble T. Barnes et al, complaint in suit for $750. Schmidt & Reynolds, plaintiffs' attorneys.

DEMURRER SUSTAINED.

Ruling in the Case of Margaret J. Jones vs. Duncan, Brewer & Co.

Some weeks ago Margaret J. Jones, administratrix, began a suit in the United States court against Duncan, Brewer & Co. to collect $5000 damages for the death of her son, John E. Jones. The defendants demurred to the complaint setting up that the court had no jurisdiction of persons or the action and the complaint did not state a cause of action.

Judge Nelson's decision was received this morning and the demurrer is sustained but without costs. The judge had some doubt as to sustaining the objection as to jurisdiction for the reason that the complaint is not such as is usual in common law cases. The venue of form is not as complete as appears upon the face of the complaint on file with the clerk. There is failure to state in what county the defendants reside, nor is there any allegation as to their residence in the Fifth district. It would be better if these facts were stated and he suggests that the complaint be made to conform to those ordinarily used in this court. The plaintiff is given ten days to amend.

THE DOG NOT VICIOUS.

An Amusing Canine Case in the Municipal Court Today.

The chief attraction in municipal court this morning was the case of Edgar Brown, charged with keeping a vicious dog. He lives out at Woodland and has a big dog that is the joy of his life.

Across the street resides Theodore Dufresne and his wife. They too, did have a dog that was dear to their hearts, but the dog of Brown, a larger animal, on Oct. 29, got into an altercation with the Dufresne canine and so assaulted it that within one short hour it gave up the ghost.

This morning it fell upon the Dufresne household to prove that their neighbor's dog is vicious. Mr. Dufresne testified that the animal had come at him growling, barking and "making his hair stand up," but that he never had been bitten, as he always carried a pitchfork or picked up a stone with which to defend himself.

Mrs. Dufresne, in her own peculiar way, and a rather quite amusing, told why she thought the dog vicious. Brown's attorney made a vigorous defense and Judge Winje decided that the case had not been proven, and while he wished all the dogs in town ought to see death, he decided that the Brown dog was not vicious and discharged the defendant.

Charles Lindquist was found guilty of stealing four silver dollars from Gust Stranburg and committed to the county jail for fifteen days. One drunk was strangled, one given a suspension of sentence and one who pleaded not guilty to a charge had his hearing set for the afternoon.

WANT HIM TO RESIGN.

Chamber of Commerce Directors Want Secretary Thompson To Step Down.

The chamber of commerce directors met this morning and discussed the situation of affairs. The committee on finance reported that the communication asking the council to pay the indebtedness of the chamber had been presented. It was discussed in the committee of the whole yesterday afternoon and all the aldermen seemed to favor it except Alderman Cox. There was some discussion of the situation this morning.

Conversations with some of the directors gave a Herald reporter the information that they at present are anxiously waiting for something which does not come—the resignation of Secretary Thompson. One of the directors who is personally friendly to Secretary Thompson said: Secretary Thompson does not seem to be able to take a hint, for he has been given several broad ones that he ought to resign. Now, we don't question his fitness for the position. The directors cordially invited to be present and all readers of this are kindly requested to inform their deaf-mute friends of this service.

BIG LANDSLIDE.

The Republicans Swept Everything Before Them in the State Elections That Were Held Yesterday.

Governor McKinley Re-elected in Ohio by Eighty Thousand Plurality and the Legislature is Republican.

New York State Went Republican and the Croker-Murphy Machine Was Badly Hit.

Iowa Elected a Republican Governor by Thirty Thousand Plurality and Kansas Also Went Republican.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Returns from Ohio are slow coming in, but it is evident now that Governor McKinley and the whole Republican state ticket have been elected by an unusually large plurality and there is little room for

WILLIAM MCKINLEY. doubt that there will be a Republican majority in each branch of the general assembly greater than in the present general assembly.

The rate of gain now established indicates that McKinley's plurality will be about 50,000. No candidate for governor has received so large a plurality since Brough defeated Vallandigham by 100,000 in the 200 precincts now reported there have been shown but few Democratic gains and those very small. The returns at noon show that Governor McKinley has 80,000 plurality over Neal and 30,000 majority over all his three opponents. The legislature is overwhelmingly Republican and stands as follows: Senate—Republicans, 24; Democrats, 7. House—Republicans, 82; Democrats, 25.

Out of eighty-eight counties in Ohio, McKinley carried sixty-four and in

LAWRENCE T. NEAL. many of the others was only a few hundred behind Neal. It is the greatest plurality or majority ever given any man elected governor in the state, save the 101,882 to Brough over Vallandigham in 1863.

The Republican gains were uniform all over the state and the country precincts gained as much for McKinley as the voting places in the cities or manufacturing towns. This city gave McKinley 2000 majority and the county 1600, giving Republican for the first time since 1855.

McKinley's plurality in Cuyahoga county (unofficial) is 6000. The balance of the ticket received about 100 more. This is the largest plurality given a candidate in this county in thirty years.

NEW YORK. Maynard Badly Beaten and the Republicans Elect Their State Ticket and Have the Legislature.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Republicans have scored a big victory in the Empire state. Judge Maynard, the nominee of the Hill-Crocker machine for the court of appeals, was cut to pieces in the city and state and the Republican candidate, Bartlett, will have a majority of over 100,000. The vote in New York city was: Maynard, 126,889; Bartlett, 91,692. This shows that Maynard was slashed fearfully. In Brooklyn he ran about 5000 behind the Democratic candidate for secretary of state. Palmer (Republican) will have 60,000 majority over Meyer (Democrat) for secretary of state. Returns received up to 11 a. m. today show the election of seventy-four Republicans and fifty-four Democrats to the assembly. Richard Croker, the Tammany leader, concedes that the Republicans have carried the legislature. Hoody, the Democratic candidate for mayor of Brooklyn was defeated, and Kings county went Republican.

Schieren (Republican) is elected mayor by about 5000 majority. Later—The election in this state was a clean and complete sweep for the Republicans. Bartlett is elected to the court of appeals by possibly over 15,000 plurality, and the rest of the Republican state ticket wins by a majority of 20,000. The state senate, now Democratic, will have a Republican majority of 6 and the assembly a Republican majority of 7. In the constitutional convention there will be 105 Republicans and 70 Democrats.

In the city of New York, Maynard for court of appeals had a plurality of only 3000, the rest of the ticket making an average of 60,000. Brooklyn overwhelmed the ring with a plurality of over 27,000 for Schieren for mayor, and Kings county completed the rout by electing the entire Republican ticket by 8500.

IOWA. The Republican Candidate for Governor Has a Plurality of Over Thirty Thousand Over Boies.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 8.—Returns have been received from 583 out of the 2003 voting precincts in the state, which give Jackson 73,447 and Boies 59,391. This is a net Republican gain of 23,777 and if the same ratio of increase be maintained indicates a plurality of over 30,000 for Jackson.

Chairman Blythe, of the Republican state central committee, claims that Jackson will have 35,000 plurality and that the general assembly be Republican by 15 or 20 in joint ballot. Chairman Fuller, of the Democratic committee, concedes Jackson's election by 25,000 or more.

Later returns increase the Republican plurality on the state ticket to over 40,000. Jackson, for governor, runs about 3500 votes behind the ticket. The general assembly is safely Republican in both branches and probably anti-Prohibition, though a majority of the Republicans elected is pledged to maintain prohibition.

Returns from 610 precincts, a little less than one-third of the state, give Jackson, Republican, over Boies, Democrat, for governor, 11,760, indicating a plurality in the entire state of about 35,000, which will be increased to 40,000 on the balance of the state ticket, as Jackson runs behind his ticket about four to a precinct.

Returns now being received are by entire counties and hence are not comparable with the precinct returns first received. They indicate that the Republicans have carried sixty-five and probably sixty-eight of the ninety-nine counties, insuring a Republican majority of nearly thirty on joint ballot in the legislature.

For the first time in eleven years the Republicans elect several anti-Prohibitionists, probably fifteen or twenty, to the general assembly, indicating the probable adoption of a local option measure by the next legislature. The Prohibition and Populist votes are unexpectedly light.

This Coupon counts for five votes (sent to The Herald's office previous to Nov. 11.)
My choice for Mayor at the ensuing spring election is.....
November 8. Signature.

KANSAS. The Republicans Carried the State by a Decisive Plurality According to the Latest Reports.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 8.—Nothing definite will be known as to the result of yesterday's election in this state before to-night or tomorrow morning. The vote in the sure Republican and Populist counties was light, while in those in which a careful canvass was made, an unusually large vote for an off year was polled, with no definite figures to base estimates on.

The Populists claim to have carried sixty-five of the 100 counties, while at Republican headquarters victory is claimed in at least eighty counties. There is little doubt that the Republicans have won in a majority of the counties, but it is doubtful if the returns will justify the estimates they have so far made.

If the Republicans have carried the state by a decisive plurality, as seems probable, it will prove a severe blow to the Populists and may result in forcing them to unite with the Democrats next year and divide candidates for congress and state officers with their former allies. Thirteen district judges were elected yesterday. Of these the Republicans have probably elected nine, the Populists three, and the Democrats one. The complete returns may change these figures and give the Populists five and the Republicans eight.

Returns this morning from the local elections in Kansas show steady increasing Republican gains and Populist losses. While the returns are far from complete, and those that have been received are mostly from cities and towns, the Populists will have to show unexpected gains in the rural districts to overcome those already shown by the Republicans. Counties which gave the largest Populist majorities last year were carried by the Republicans yesterday. This is particularly true in the coal mining districts, where there was a protracted strike last summer. The Democratic vote was unprecedentedly light. Notwithstanding the character of the returns received so far, the Populists are hopeful that official figures and complete returns from the country will be favorable to them.

NEW JERSEY. The Republicans Have Secured a Clear Working Majority in Both Branches of the Legislature.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Latest returns from the New Jersey election only serve to increase the majorities of the Republicans and anti-track men. The anti-track men elected seven state senators and their opponents but one. Nine Democratic senators held over as also four Republicans and the new state senate stands: Republicans, 11; Democrats, 10.

In the state assembly the Republicans or anti-race track men have 39 and the Democrats 21. There is a clear working majority against the winter race tracks in both branches of the legislature.

MASSACHUSETTS. The Old Bay State Swung Back Into the Republican Column by Thirty Thousand Plurality.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Republicans have swept Massachusetts and have elected their entire state ticket. Greenhalge (Republican), has from 25,000 to 30,000 plurality over Russell (Democrat) for governor. In 1891, W. E. Russell (Democrat), had 6477 plurality over Allen (Republican).

With one town missing the Journal gives the vote of the state for governor as follows: Greenhalge (Republican), 102,442; J. F. Russell (Democrat), 157,799; Greenhalge's plurality 55,357. The plurality of W. E. Russell (Democrat) last year was 2534.

PENNSYLVANIA. The Republicans Scored a Sweeping Victory All Along the Line on a Light Vote.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The vote in Pennsylvania yesterday was light and resulted in the election of Samuel L. Jackson (Republican), of Armstrong county, for state treasurer, and J. Newton Fell (Republican), of Philadelphia, for justice of the supreme court.

Mr. Jackson will succeed John W. Morrison (Republican), who was elected state treasurer in 1891 by a plurality of 34,877 over his Democratic opponent. Judge Fell will serve the two years remaining of the term of Judge Edward M. Paxson, who resigned to accept the receivership of the Reading Railroad company.

In Philadelphia the entire Republican ticket was elected, as follows: Sheriff, Samuel M. Clements; city controller, Thomas M. Thompson; recorder of deeds, Thomas Green.

Pennsylvania yesterday gave a majority, which when the official count is completed, it is believed will exceed 100,000, surpassing all previous records in the history of the party in this state with one exception. This exception was the majority of 137,728 given Grant for president over Greeley in 1872.

ILLINOIS. The Entire Republican Judicial Ticket, Headed by Judge Gary, Has Been Elected in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Three precincts are still missing, but it is plain from the figures so far compiled that the entire Republican judicial ticket is elected, with Gary in an easy lead. The vote on county commissioners is so close that no definite result can yet be announced. Some of the Democratic candidates for county commissioners from the city appear to be elected, but the Republicans carried the president of the county board. Both annexation of Norwood Park and the museum question were carried by overwhelming majorities.

Returns from the polls are complete enough to make it certain that all the Republican candidates for the bench except J. Henry Kraft, the socialist, are elected by safe majorities, ranging from 2000 to 12,000. Judge Gary's election as judge for the seventh time, in the face of opposition from the governor and city administration, is especially gratifying to the Republicans. John B. Payne is the Democratic lawyer elected judge in place of Kraft.

The full Republican ticket for county commissioners is also elected, with the probable exception of George Edmondson now president of the board. The electors voted by a large majority to give authority for the erection of museums in the parks.

NEBRASKA. Both the Republicans and the Populists Claim the Election of the Supreme Court Justice.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 8.—Interest centers entirely on the vote for supreme judge, and returns are yet too meager to make a reliable estimate. The fight lies between Harrison (Republican) and Holcomb (Populist) with chances favoring the latter. This county shows small net losses for the Republicans but other counties with the larger towns will offset this. The latest returns make the outlook for Harrison more favorable.

Chairman Slaughter, of the Republican committee, claims a victory for the whole ticket by 10,000 plurality, but is unquestionably too sanguine. Both sides claim the election of supreme justice.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Nov. 8.—Except for light rain over Arkansas it is fair everywhere, and no precipitation has fallen north of Tennessee. An area of low barometer is central over the far Northwest, the remainder of the country is covered by an area of high barometer, or clearing weather.
The low area that was over South Dakota yesterday has been filled up by the incoming high,
and dissipated.
The temperature has changed very slightly, remaining above normal in all sections. The highest is 52° at several northern stations. The lowest is 32° at Prince Albert, N. W. P.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 45°, the lowest last night 45°, the average for the day 45°. It is 5° higher than the average for this time of year. The depth of water in the St. Mary's canal was 10 feet.

The Republican Landslide.
The re-election of William McKinley by a plurality of about 50,000 to the government of Ohio places him in the front rank of candidates for the Republican nomination for president in 1896. The result of yesterday's election shows that Ohio is opposed to the free trade views held by "Neal," the author of the tariff plank in the Chicago platform, and that it endorses the principle of protection upheld by Mr. McKinley.

There is no denying the meaning of the vote in Ohio. The tariff was almost the sole issue in that campaign, and the verdict is in favor of the Republican doctrines of protection by an overwhelming majority. The financial disturbances throughout the country had a bad effect upon the Democratic cause. The action of the Democratic majority in the senate on the silver question lost the party many votes, and the belief of many people that fear of tariff changes is also responsible for much of the industrial depression that prevails caused many to record their votes against the Democratic tariff policy.

The result in Iowa is largely attributable to the same causes that operated in Ohio. The prohibition question was largely eliminated from the contest, and national issues mainly decided the result. Iowa is normally Republican by a large majority and with the election of a United States senator at stake it is not astonishing that the Republicans have swept the state.

The Machine's Defeat.
The Democratic machine in New York state was struck a tremendous blow yesterday. The Croker-Hill-Murphy machine staked its existence upon Judge Maynard, the Democratic candidate for the court of appeals, and with him it went down to an overwhelming defeat. It may be said that it was not a Democratic year anyway, and that the blame laid upon the national administration for the hard times and the fear of the effects of free trade had much to do with the result.

That is true, but it is also evident that the Democratic machine made an awful mistake in supposing that it could force
all the respectable voters of New York state to swallow the candidacy for a high judicial position of a man who changed the complexion of the state senate from a Republican body, which the people had chosen, to a Democratic branch, by an act of the grossest criminal character. It was an insolent idea on the part of the Croker-Hill-Murphy machine that the election of such a notorious man to the court of appeals could be accomplished, and it must be gratifying to every man who is anxious to see the high character of the judiciary preserved from contamination and degradation, be he Democrat or Republican that Maynard was hurled deep by the people of New York state.

It was a rare opportunity for the antislappers of last year to deal the Democratic machine a hard blow, and it is evident that they did not neglect it. Some of the most prominent Democrats were against Maynard, and the New York World, the New York Herald, the New York Times and the New York Evening
Post opposed him with great effect. Mr.
Bartlett, the Republican candidate, was not a very strong man but the feeling against Maynard among the independent Democrats was so intense that Bartlett's success was not unexpected.

The vote on the rest of the ticket,
which shows a general Republican victory, indicates that other causes were at work beside the hostility to Maynard to produce the Democratic defeat.

The Boston Transcript makes the excellent suggestion that any person who receives a threatening letter from a crank should privately have the crank's record looked up by proper officials.

This is not cowardice; it is protective common sense, and may be the means of saving other people's lives besides his own.

The European Navies.
The suggestion by Italy that a naval demonstration be made by the members of the Triple Alliance is probably prompted by the recent boasts of the Frenchmen regarding the strength of the combined fleets of France and Russia as against their common enemies. The fleets of Germany, Italy and Austria are individually smaller than those of either Russia or France, but combined they make a very strong showing, and Italy evidently desires to impress this fact upon the Frenchman and Russians who have been embracing and entertaining
each other and indulging in considerable loud talk.

In this connection, some figures recently collected concerning the navies of Europe, will prove interesting. Nearly 300,000 men are employed in all the European navies. England heads with over 700,000 officers and men in active service, besides 33,000 more she can call into immediate service in emergencies.
France comes second with about 600,000;
Russia third, with 27,000. Spain employs 24,000, including an unusually large proportion of marines. Italy has 21,000 in active service, or about 2000 more than Germany. Several of these powers have large available reserves of men who have served a term under the operation of the military conscription and have gone into the merchant service or sought other employment. The Italian naval reserve, for instance, includes almost 50,000 men on permanent furlough. Of the great powers of Europe, Austria maintains the smallest naval establishment, requiring but 5330 officers and men.

Law and Order's Victory.
Chicago endorsed Judge Gary's decisions in the anarchist trials. It was a struggle between law and anarchy, and the law was sustained. This is a gratifying result and will increase the country's admiration for the Windy City's good sense.
The election or defeat of Judge Gary was a national issue. His defeat would undoubtedly have encouraged the anarchists, who are now cowed and afraid of the law which punished the murderous reds concerned in the Haymarket massacre. Had the man who presided at their trial been defeated as the result of the bitter fight waged upon him by Governor Altgeld, who pardoned the anarchists remaining unchanged and malignant Judge Gary for his rulings in their case, anarchy would undoubtedly again raise its monstrous head all over the land.

The election of Judge Gary is a triumph for law and order and a notice from the people to the anarchists that no quarter will be shown them should they again attempt to put their monstrous ideas into practice. There is no room in this country for anarchy and Altgeldism.

A Good Suggestion.
The suggestion of Rev. Dr. Salter that business men buy Bethel meal tickets with which to answer street appeals for food is a wise one. Promiscuous alms giving is bad and the money is often misapplied. The meal ticket will just fill the bill.
On the whole, the Bethel restaurant presents practical features not always found in charity organizations. But Mr.
Salter's charity is always practical and wise.

AMERICAN STORE.

HERMAN HOAG says there is not one in a thousand persons that observes economy, even the man who gets a dollar a day for excessive labor can be seen buying balloons in the market place because some fakir says they're cheap. He says two-thirds of the pin money he allows his wife goes for needless things that are bought because 'twas said they were cheap. Napoleon's wife spent 600,000 francs in one year for things
she never used; Napoleon said, so much for shop-men's yarns.

was turned to the grocery stores and meat markets, and now they have got around to the saloons. One would naturally expect that they would have started with the saloons, but they always do things in a queer way in Kansas City.

Prohibition was beaten again in Iowa.
The Republican platform, as well as the Democratic, this year declared in favor of high license and local option, and the Republican candidate for governor is anti-prohibition. How the legislature will stand on the question is not definitely known yet.

The first baby born in the Cherokee strip was named in honor of Hoke Smith.
This will make Dink Dotts and Pod Dismuke jealous of the popularity of the secretary of the interior.

The astonishing news comes from Virginia that a notorious white desperado has been lynched for maltreating a negro. How the negro escaped lynching is a mystery.

"Hard times and bad nominations" say the Democrats in explanation of their defeat yesterday. "Fear of free trade," claim the Republicans. Perhaps both are right.

Larry Neal can now sympathize with ex-Governor Campbell. But the latter's dose was mild compared with what Larry has been forced to swallow.

One of the greatest surprises of yesterday's elections was the result in Iowa.
It is a surprise even to the Republican managers in that state.

Send in your votes for your choice for mayor of Duluth for the next two years.
The contest will be a lively one.

It was another tidal wave. But this time was a Republican wave.

It is a great boom for McKinley for presidential nomination.

The Democrats saved Kentucky and Maryland.

All the Office is Worth.
St. Cloud Times: Duluth reduced the salary of its railroad commissioner from $500 to $300. There is nothing small about that reduction.

PROMOTE ALL SPORTS.

Duluth Curling Club Members Yesterday Voted to Change the Name to Duluth Athletic Club.

Plans for Winter Sports at the Glen Avon Rink Which Will be Carried Out.

Polo, Indoor Base Ball, Curling and Skating Bicycle Track to be Built Next Summer.

Duluth has now a full fledged athletic association and one which bids fair to become a brilliant success. There will be a great interest in general sports this year in consequence and the first hard freezing will see the fun commence. The street car company will then have to double the number of cars on the Woodland line in the late afternoon and during the evening.

When the Duluth Curling club established itself at the Glen Avon rink the impression became general that it was to be devoted to curling and skating and nothing else. In a measure this was true and the name of the club gave nothing to indicate that it was anything other than a club to promote curling. Now this is changed in every way clean down to the name and all sorts of sports are to be encouraged.

The members of the club met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at room 32, Exchange building, in general session and formally decided to change the name of the organization to the Duluth Athletic club. Simon Clark, the president, resigned, giving as his reason that his business claimed his entire attention. This was greatly regretted by the club for Mr. Clark was an efficient and diligent officer. In E. P. Towne, who was elected to the vacancy, the members believe that they have found a worthy successor.

Many plans are being made and proposed for this year's fun. The second Friday of every month has been set apart for polo. The Duluth Polo club has joined already and will represent the athletic club in the city. To winter over clubs are organizing. One night every week will be set apart for skating, the whole rink will be thrown open. Of course there will be skating every night on the outside of the curling rinks.

A new feature which will be inaugurated will be indoor football. A team is already being organized and will join the association. One night each month will be set apart for this.

Skating races will also be arranged if possible. There is no race more popular or exciting than a close skating race. As there are some great flyers at the head of the lake some good races ought to be arranged.

Everything about the rink is to be kept in top shape this year. Two men are to be employed to look after the ice. A woman will be placed in charge of the ladies' room and will give attention to the ladies' wants and administer to their comfort.

That the club will be popular is a foregone conclusion. Fifty members joined at the start. The rink will undoubtedly come in, as next year a track will be built on the grounds.

WILL BUY TICKETS.

County and Many Citizens Will Patronize The Bethel Restaurant.

The Bethel restaurant opens up well. Over 200 meals were served yesterday afternoon. Mr. Salter and Mr. Robel think the restaurant will be self sustaining and perhaps pay a small profit right from the start.

Tickets are being printed, each good for a meal in price from 6 to 15 cents. The county will probably buy a quantity of these tickets for Mr. Clark to distribute.

The ticket idea was suggested by a business man. "Particularly in the winter," said he, "one constantly meets the request for money given to buy a meal. Whether one's quarter goes to a restaurant or the nearest saloon is generally a problem that bothers the mind. Now I want a couple of dollars worth of tickets and when a man strikes me for a meal, I will give him a meal ticket."

The Bethel management hope business men generally will buy these tickets.

TRAINING OF CHILDREN.

Valuable Advice Given by Professor Alexander in this regard.

Professor Alexander lectured at Turner hall last evening on "The Training of Children" and the hall was crowded. He exhorted parents to study the children and learn their natural tendencies and propensities. Then those needing it should be properly restrained and the weak forces trained. He is not a believer in the "spare the rod and spoil the child" theory but thinks that there is comparatively little need of corporal punishment if parents will exercise proper patience and perseverance and understand their children. He also cautioned parents against attempting to break the will of their children. Nothing could be more disastrous as it is the will which enables the child in after life to refuse to be led into temptation.

Tonight Professor Alexander lectures on "The Laws of Health" at Turner hall. For all forms of disordered stomach use Bromo-Seltzer. A palatable, prompt cure.

HAD A BRIGHT SIDE.

Chaplain McCabe's Lecture on the Humorous Side of Libby Prison Life.

Chaplain McCabe's lecture upon "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison" at the First Methodist church last evening was a treat of superior merit and an entertainment fraught with valuable instruction. The large auditorium of the church was completely filled and nearly every seat in the gallery occupied. Considering that the seating capacity is 2300 it is safe to say that 1800 people listened to the witty discourse of the veteran chaplain.

The crowd was so great at the doors that the sale of tickets was abandoned and no attempt made to count those entering. The proceeds of the lecture are to go principally toward defraying the debt incurred in the completion of the church last year, of which several thousand dollars yet remain unpaid.

The appreciation of the audience was manifested by the most profound and rapt attention throughout. Willis A. Gorman post was out in full numbers and occupied several pews in front.

Chaplain McCabe, a man of commanding presence and evinces great personal magnetism, both on and off the platform. His story of prison life is not a sad and gloomy history but gives the listener an accurate insight into the many sunny hours of the Southern prison of which the only bright side has been popularly considered the outside. The speaker was introduced in a few well chosen words by Rev. J. A. Theburn. Before rising to speak he sang the "Song of Luther Hill" in a powerful but mellow voice, accompanying himself on the flag-draped organ.

The lecturer touches every phase of life within the walls and his remarks abound in both the humorous and the pathetic. His description of prison suffering and hardship brought tears to many eyes and the recital of various anecdotes relating to the other side of their brethren's existence produced frequent and hearty laughter. He told many patriotic stories of his own regiment, the 122nd Ohio infantry, but gave all the boys in blue the greatest credit possible.

Chaplain McCabe is heartily in favor of settling all international disputes by arbitration; favors the manufacture of big guns and a navy for public defense, and thinks it the duty of the government to pension each and every soldier who drew a sword or lifted a musket.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

County Has Voted $900 a Year to the Organization.

The first annual meeting of the newly organized Associated Charities of Duluth was held in the Pilgrim Congregational church last evening. President C. Salter presided. The recording secretary was directed to cast the ballots of those present for the officers elected at last week's meeting to be the officers for the ensuing year, except that for recording secretary, Mrs. Birch having declined to serve. N. J. Miller was substituted.

The committee having that matter in charge reported the following named for directors at large: D. C. Prescott, Judge J. D. Ensign, Rev. J. Johnson, George Spencer, Nels Hall, Carl Gustafson, McGillicrath, C. P. Magnusin, A. R. McFarlane and Rev. C. J. Collin. The report was received and those named duly elected.

The roll of societies was called and in each case where delegates have not been appointed some one was instructed to see the management and try to secure the omission before the next meeting. At the request of Rev. Magnus Larson, the Swedish Baptist church, the Missionary society was accorded membership.

Mayor d'Auremont told how kindly Mr. Salter and he had been received by the county yesterday afternoon. The request was for only $800 for the year, but the commissioners at once voted $900, or $75 per month, believing the work to be done and the poor greatly to the county's interest. This $75 per month assures the complete establishment of the association.

Mr. Salter with his usual becoming modesty disclaimed any credit for the appropriation and said the mayor's lucid statement of the cause was the all convincing argument.

As the attendance was moderate an adjournment was taken until next Tuesday without choosing an executive committee or secretary.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

Saved From Suffering.

The Gratitude of a Lady Cured by Kickapoo Indian Sagwa.

DANVILLE, ILL., Oct. 28.

I feel it my duty to express my gratitude for what the Kickapoo Indian Remedies have done for me.

I was suffering with Neuralgia, and had to stay up every night for weeks. At last I got a bottle of Kickapoo Indian Oil, and in less than ten minutes after application I was relieved. I continued its use and also used Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and the same time I feel better than I have for many months. Many of my friends have used your Remedies for different troubles, and find them to be exactly as advertised. I believe everybody who is suffering from any of the above named troubles and sisters in Christ, I will answer any questions as to what the help of God they have done for me.

Yours respectfully, EVA DECAMI.

PUSHING THE WORK.

Superintendent Denfeld Laboring Hard for the Convention.

Still the work of securing the National Educational association for Duluth goes on. Superintendent Denfeld is in receipt of a letter from Irwin Shepard, of Winona, Minn., secretary of the National Educational association, in which he announces that he is for Duluth and will do all in his power to help this city secure the plum.

Secretary Shepard says that Indianapolis and Detroit will be strong competitors for the meeting. In order to be on a par with Detroit, it must be shown that the transportation to and from Duluth will be furnished at reasonable rates. It is felt by some that Duluth is a little one side of the prominent lines of travel.

Mr. Shepard says that the supporters of this city's claims must get before the committee's point, together with a full statement as to hotel and hall accommodations. Eastern parties will naturally favor Saratoga and failing in getting that, may make Detroit their second choice. Still Duluth may win solely on the advantages that it offers.

Secretary Shepard also wants information about the probability of the Great Northern steamers running next July; what the total passenger capacity of the Buffalo-Duluth steamers; what rate can be secured to Duluth from Pacific coast and Rocky Mountain points over the Great Northern, Canadian Pacific and Northern Pacific railways.

Today Superintendent Denfeld will print the total passenger capacity of the Buffalo-Duluth steamers; what rate can be secured to Duluth from Pacific coast and Rocky Mountain points over the Great Northern, Canadian Pacific and Northern Pacific railways.

AMUSEMENTS.

"She Couldn't Marry Three."

"She Couldn't Marry Three" drew a large audience at the Temple last evening which goes to show that newspaper advertising pays. It was just the kind of an audience that appreciates the play. It is a melodrama of the sensational sort. The heroine foils the villain at every point, although it takes three years to do it, and from a poor little fisherman's daughter rises until she becomes the operatic queen of London.

There is a rapid road scene in which she saves her husband from being torn to pieces by a railroad train and this brings terrific applause from the gallery. The last act is the best of the play.

Miss Kennedy is a clever subreptite and is bright and winsome in her manner and appearance. The company is a weak one.

Proved an Alibi.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 8.—J. R. Lemmons, of Dallas, Tex., who was arrested here last Saturday on suspicion of being implicated in the Olympian train robbery, was examined in the police court yesterday and after proving an alibi, was discharged. At present there are five of the train robbers still at large. They are closely pursued by posses.

DULUTH, MINN.

NEARLY ALL COMPLETED.

Government Work at the Head of the Lakes is Over.

Capt. C. S. Barker yesterday finished his dredging contract at Superior and now all the dredging at the head of the lakes, for which appropriations have been made, is finished. The pier work at the Superior end will be completed this week and then the only work in progress at the head of the lakes will be the repairs to the north pier of the Duluth canal.

Next year will be the off year as respects government work. All of the appropriations which have been made are used up and nothing remains but the contingent fund. It will be the May of next year before another appropriation bill is passed by congress, July or August will come before the advertisements for bids are ordered, three days advertising is required by law, and it will be fall before any contracts are let. Consequently there will be little or no government work in progress here next summer.

Upon representations that certain work is absolutely necessary to be done at once, the long delay and red tape can be avoided in some cases, as it was, for instance, in the case of the Rice's Point channel last year. It is hardly probable that this will be done, however.

Looking For Suckers.

Fully half a dozen inquiries concerning the Mesaba Manufacturing company have lately been received at the mayor's office from Eastern parties, and several at the office of the city clerk. The seekers of information asked questions which neither office was able to answer as they had never heard of any such firm as the Mesaba Manufacturing company.

Letters directed to this company, box 925, have been received at the postoffice here, but from all appearances it seems to be a swindle as no such institution is known in the city. Circulars have been sent out signed by the Mesaba Manufacturing company promising agencies for patent medicines on receipt of $5. It is evidently a scheme to catch suckers.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface, such articles should never be used except on the advice of a physician. It is a fact that many of the ointments for catarrh of the nose and throat, which are sold by cheap vendors, contain mercury. In buying such ointments, be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and acts on the system. It is sold by Druggists, price 25c per bottle.

THE CONNOLLEY TRIAL

The Two Harbors ex-Priest Brought Before the Court Today to Face His Accusers.

Ten Jurors Were Secured up to the Noon Adjournment, Only Twenty-one Talesmen Being Examined.

Julia Sutherland, the Complaining Witness, is Stopping With Sheriff Sharvy at the Jail.

The case against Father James E. Connolly, the Two Harbors ex-Catholic priest, was called in district court before Judge Lewis this morning. The room was crowded by parties in interest and those who had a mere idle curiosity to hear the testimony which was expected to be quite spicy.

John Duan, county attorney of Lake county, was assisted in the prosecution by J. A. Hanks, of this city. For the defendant C. O. Baldwin appeared. Judge Lewis appointed as triers Attorneys Tinkham, Middlecroft and Keyes. Father Connolly, besides his counsel, dressed in clerical garb and far less nervous and in much better health than when he was first brought to the county jail here. Behind him sat his sister, Mrs. Mullaly. She took great interest in all the proceedings and now and then prompted her brother in his suggestions to counsel. Near her were two women, one of them Father Connolly's housekeeper at Two Harbors.

On the opposite side of the room were a dozen well-dressed women, ranging in years from 20 up well into the forties. Their only interest apparently was to hear and weigh the evidence for their personal gratification. The indictment on which Father Connolly is now being tried alleges rape on Julia Sutherland, commonly known as Nellie Hanson, at Two Harbors March 19 last. In his questions to the jury Attorney Baldwin for the defense just covered this order and spoke of the girl as "Nellie Hanson, commonly known as Julia Sutherland."

When the noon recess was taken ten jurors had been chosen as follows: G. W. McAdams, J. H. Heimbach, Edward Swenson, W. B. Blake, Charles W. Piper, A. C. Randall, John A. Appleby, W. C. Park, J. T. Breslow and W. O. Smith.

This progress in the matter of securing a jury was much greater than either side had any reason to expect. Unless some unexpected snag is struck the case will be opened to the jury before the evening adjournment.

To get these ten jurors, only twenty-one talesmen were examined. Six were accepted by the parties, and in the case of the other four, the triers found the challenge untrue. Of those refused, four were peremptorily challenged by the defense and one by the state. The court excused two for cause and the triers sustained four challenges.

Many and various were the questions asked the talesmen—as to their business, domestic state, age, and all sorts of details and, of course, the usual questions were propounded as to what they had heard or read of the case. In only three or four instances was the question of religion put.

Oliver Day of West Duluth, 69 years of age, knew very little—practically nothing of the case. He is a little deaf and the triers excused him. He said that he is a Catholic. In reply to the question whether he attended church regularly, he said: "Yes—sometimes—not very"—and even Father Connolly laughed.

The complaining witness was not in court this morning. She reached Duluth yesterday afternoon and since that time has been "stopping with the sheriff." Technically she is not a prisoner, perhaps, but it is doubtful if she could leave the jail if she so wished.

"Why is Miss Sutherland at the jail?" was asked of County Attorney Duan. "She is a young girl, you know," he replied, "and wished to avoid the notoriety of going to a hotel—passing through town to the court, you see."

"Don't you think, Mr. Duan, that she may get more notoriety by going to the sheriff's apartments in the jail?" asked The Herald man.

"Most certainly not, unless someone wishes to maliciously malign her," quickly interposed Mr. Hanks, of counsel for the state.

Mr. Duan intimated that Miss Sutherland is a friend of the sheriff and stays at the jail as his guest.

On the other hand, Sheriff Sharvy stated that he was keeping Miss Sutherland in his household at the jail upon the official request of County Attorney Duan. From another official in the sheriff's office it was learned that it is the desire of the state to keep the girl from any possible outside influence or bias.

Miss Sutherland's physical condition is said by the jail officials to be quite evident and to Mrs. Sharvy, it is claimed, she declared that her babe would be born in less than six weeks.

In the District Court.

Judge Lewis this morning disposed of the following matters in district court: J. C. Russell against A. B. Jones, ordered, by consent of parties, that plaintiff have judgment as prayed with costs and disbursements; right of appeal waived; defendant given stay of thirty days.

Charles C. Boyd against Luther Mendahl et al, jury waived.

Adolph H. Schletz against Pabst Brewing company, jury waived.

THE VOTING CONTEST.

Who is the Best Man for Mayor is the Uppermost Question.

The voting contest for the most popular man for mayor inaugurated by The Herald yesterday bids fair to arouse great interest and may have no little influence in determining who one or more of the candidates will be. This contest will be no hippodrome. One coupon will mean one vote and no job press will be kept at work turning out coupons by the thousand. It will be conducted fairly and squarely, without favor and without prejudice and will be an honest indication of the sentiment of the people of Duluth.

The winner is to receive a handsome Haviland china dinner set valued at $125 which is now on exhibition at Pan-Lo & Watson's store or a $100 easy chair. Either of the prizes is a beauty and even so early has led the ladies to take an interest in the contest.

Votes began to arrive at the office last evening and were coming in all morning. Over 300 were by noon. The following is the record:

B. F. Howard..... 235

T. T. Hudson..... 29

S. A. Thompson..... 23

W. C. Sargent..... 10

OBTAINED ADVICE.

Deputy Examiner West Before the Board of County Commissioners.

The county commissioners were in session again this morning. J. P. West, deputy public examiner, is in the city and the commissioners took advantage of his presence to obtain some light on state laws, particularly those applying to the care of the poor. For instance, they wanted to know whether it was allowable to furnish groceries and allow the applicant to live at home or with friends or relatives, thus relieving the county of the responsibility of taking the person to the poor farm and assuming full care of him. Mr. West answered that it was.

Another session is being held this afternoon at which accounts and other routine matters are being considered.

Yesterday afternoon it was voted to allow the Associated Charities $75 per month. A petition for a county road near Virginia was referred. Thomas Clark, superintendent of the poor, reported 315 applications for aid and ninety-seven visits made. Grocery orders to the amount of $192.50 were issued. There were seventeen county burials. It was alleged that County Physician Fullerton had not made the four monthly visits to the poor farm as required by law and he will be called to time in the matter. The doctor reported seventy visits during the month to county patients.

Thinks Him Insane.

J. Martin Aiken, the alleged express swindler, was examined at the county jail by Dr. Bowers as to his sanity this morning by request of his brother. It is the theory of the brother that insanity is the cause of Martin's misdoings. The officers at the jail say that the prisoner seems to "lack ballast," but shows no signs of insanity. Dr. Bowers has not yet made his report.

MCKINLEY'S TRIUMPH

Official Returns From Three-fourths of the Counties and Unofficial From the Others Received.

They Place McKinley's Plurality at Eighty-three Thousand, or a Majority of Thirty Thousand.

Neal Only Carried Twenty-three Out of Eighty-eight Counties and by Narrow Majorities.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 9.—The official returns are in from three-fourths of the eighty-eight counties and with the unofficial figures from the remaining counties, Governor McKinley's plurality is placed at 83,701 and his majority over all at 30,000. The senate will stand: Republicans, 26; Democrats, 5. House: Republicans, 86; Democrats, 21.

Mercer county, which gave Neal 1800 plurality, elects a Populist representative. Neal only carried twenty-three out of eighty-eight counties and these by very narrow majorities. Hamilton county gave McKinley 11,051 and Cuyahoga 9248. Twenty-one counties that gave big majorities for Cleveland last fall went equally strong Tuesday for McKinley, who carried eighteen of twenty-one congressional districts.

The two constitutional amendments on taxation and separate legislative districts were defeated.

YOUNG MR. BRYAN TALKS.
He Considers the Money Question Defeated the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—William J. Bryan, the silver-tongued orator of Nebraska, who was elected to congress as a Democrat and is serving his second term, was among the most popular speakers in his comments from the silver point of view.

He said: "The Democratic party now in power in all the branches of the government has announced its policy on one question only, namely, finance. Congress was called to repeal an act conditionally the purchase clause of the Sherman law. It did it and adjourned. If the returns have any political significance they indicate that the Democratic party in the northeastern states made the heaviest losses where the representatives were unanimously opposed to silver."

"Don't you think the prospect of tariff revision has something to do with it?" Mr. Bryan answered, "no, the people declared for a tariff for revenue only last fall, and no law has been passed yet carrying out that decree. The money question was made paramount in the extra session and it must bear the blame for our reverses."

"Will the result tend to embarrass the work of the committee in reporting a revenue bill?"

"Not at all," said Mr. Bryan. "We were elected to reform the tariff and we will do it."

JERRY SIMPSON'S VIEWS.
What He Believes are the Causes of the Landslide.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9.—Speaking of the Republican landslide in the East, Congressman Jerry Simpson, of Kansas, said yesterday: "It was simply the result of a scare among the masses. There are a lot of lunatics in the country who know nothing themselves and were made to believe by the Republican press that the threatened revision of the tariff portended evil to the working classes. Besides this they blame the Democratic party for the existing business depression, which, as a matter of fact, is a result of iniquitous Republican legislation."

"In New York the attempt of the machine politicians to force Maynard upon the people was responsible for the result. McKinley's election makes him the logical Republican candidate for president in 1896. The tariff question will be the issue again. We thought we settled that question last year, but President Cleveland showed it to the rear, and now it has got to be fought over again, with the money question an equally important issue."

CONVINCED OF THEIR MISTAKE.
Senator Cullom Discussed the Cause of Tuesday's Results.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 9.—Senator Cullom was asked last night to give his views as to the significance of the elections held on Tuesday in Chicago, Iowa, Ohio, New York and Massachusetts. He said:

"I regard the result as conclusive that the people in the Northern states especially are thoroughly convinced that they made a terrible mistake in voting Democracy into power a year ago. They are not likely to make the mistake soon again. They tried the experiment of voting the Democratic ticket and placing that party in power, but this experiment proved a failure and they seized the first opportunity to come back to the party which believes in the development of our own resources, in the payment of good wages to the toiling masses, in good money for all, and in making this the greatest and most independent nation on earth. The triumph of McKinley is a great one. It places him in the forefront of our party as a great leader."

BLAMED THE DEMOCRATS.
Senator Palmer's Explanation of the People's Action.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 9.—Senator John M. Palmer arrived here from Washington Tuesday, and when asked this morning to explain the political landslide said:

"I have no reason to assign except that the country is in trouble, and that the Democrats are apparently in power. There was no legislation in the recent session of congress which affected the matter, unless it were the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, and that was one of the most important acts in our monetary history. I have no doubt that McKinley will be the Republican candidate in 1896. The result in Ohio certainly shows the wishes of the Ohio Republicans on that score."

GAINS FOR THE REPUBLICANS.
Increased Their Hold on the Massachusetts Legislature.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Practically complete returns for the legislature show gains for the Republicans in both branches, the increase in the senate being four members and in the house, with five districts missing, thirteen.

THE END OF A DESPERADO.
A Noted Outlaw Was Shot by a Telegraph Operator.

MORRILLTON, Ark., Nov. 9.—At 2 o'clock yesterday morning Telegraph Operator Brown shot and killed Bud Pangborn, while the latter was attempting to enter the depot presumably for the purpose of hiding from the sheriff's posse, which was closely pursuing him on suspicion of being one of the Olyphant train robbers.

Pangborn was one of the worst desperadoes in this section, and was the leader of the mob that lynched a negro rapist in Little Rock one year ago.

TWO THOUSAND KILLED.
The Capital of King Lobengula Captured by the British Troops After a Furious Fight.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A special dispatch from Johannesburg to the Pall Mall Gazette says that the Fort Tuli column consisting of 300 Bechuanaland police and a number of Chief Khama's men, under command of Commander Raaf, captured Bulawayo on Nov. 2, the day after the column had repulsed an attack made upon it by the Matabele and command of Gombo, Lobengula's son-in-law, during which engagement Gombo is reported to have been killed.

The Matabeles fought with desperate fury, but they found it impossible to stand up against the machine guns, which laid the head in swaths upon the field. It was not until 3,000 of the Matabeles were killed that the remaining members of the Impis retreated and allowed their king's capital to fall into the hands of the British.

This is the severest blow yet dealt to the Matabeles, and it is believed that Lobengula will not survive. The British loss was only five men killed.

This coupon counts for five votes if sent to The Herald office previous to Nov. 12.

IRON TRADE BETTER

An Improved Condition in the Iron and Steel Trade Ascribed to Tuesday's Election Results.

Buyers Were Predicting a Change in the Event of a Protest Against Free Trade.

It is Now Believed They Will Enter the Market for Larger Purchases Than Lately.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—The Iron Trade Review today says: "There is an improved condition in the iron and steel market in consequence of Tuesday's election results—a sentimental improvement at least. It may not show itself in any advance in prices, but in a greater willingness to trade. Iron and steel manufacturers are protectionists and their business practice conforms to their belief."

"The hesitancy about concluding pending negotiations for large amounts of iron, which we chronicled immediately after the election of 1892, was the result of a fear that values, which had advanced 25 cents in the case of raw iron, would recede. Today, as reports from the market for soft steel billets and Bessemer pig, and the efforts of some Southern producers of pig iron to stiffen prices."

"Pittsburg mills are all employed in a way, but there is still an absence of orders involving such tonnage as would mean steady employment for a period of weeks."

FRANCIS PARKMAN DEAD.
The Well Known Historian Died Near Boston From Peritonitis.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Francis Parkman, the eminent historian, died at his home on Prince street, Jamaica Plains, yesterday afternoon. His last sickness was brief, peritonitis being the cause of death.

Several months ago Mr. Parkman's condition was regarded as serious and fears of his death were entertained, but he rallied from the attack. He remained, however, in weakened condition, and when attacked by peritonitis his vitality was insufficient to sustain him.

Francis Parkman, whom Blackwood's magazine recently called "the most eminent American historian now alive," was born in Boston, Sept. 16, 1823. In 1849 he entered Harvard college and it was then at the age of 17 that he planned a project, since realized, of writing of French and Indian wars.

Young Parkman resolved to live the life of the Indians in order to fit himself for the work he had projected. Early in the spring of 1851 he started for the distant West. Through the region now covered by the states of Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado he travelled. For weeks he lived among the Indians, partaking of their food and living their rough life. His health, however, suffered severely by this exposure. The account of his travels appeared in book form under the title "The Oregon Trail."

This appeared in 1847.

After this work was completed, Mr. Parkman resumed his work on the "Conspiracy of Pontiac." In 1856 he published his first novel, "Vassell Morton."

The "Pioneers of France in the New World" was given to the public in 1865. This was followed two years later, in 1867, by a remarkable volume, the only one of its kind, upon the "Jesuits in North America in the Seventeenth Century."

Schieff's Accomplish.
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Lon Floyd, the young man who was arrested yesterday as an accomplice of Philip N. Schieff, the paying teller of the bank of Minneapolis, who robbed that institution of $20,000, was arraigned in the Tombs police court here today and remanded to prison to await further developments.

Annie Pixley Dead.
LONDON, Nov. 9.—Miss Annie Pixley, the well known American actress, died in this city last night.

Fatally Injured.
BENTON, Ill., Nov. 9.—Miss Beard, of Harrisburg, Ill., president of the W. C. T. U. of Illinois, was thrown from a hayrack here yesterday by a runaway horse, while coming to the Cairo Short Line depot, and seriously injured. Her injuries are considered fatal.

High School Burned.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Nov. 9.—The fair weather of the past week continues, with little rainfall and temperature slightly higher than the average all over the country. An area of high barometer covers the entire country except the extreme northwest where there is a slight depression. The high area does not seem to be moving off very fast and there is no sign of a storm now.
The only precipitation reported this morning is a trace of snow at Duluth, N. W. T. and a slight shower at Fort Smith Ark. In other sections it has been reported that a heavy belt of fog covers the lower lakes, and the upper Mississippi and that this mists making conditions of a fair in temperature in these sections. In other parts there has been no material change, the highest at St. Paul, the lowest at Battleford, N. W. T.
The daily change in temperature here yesterday was slight, the highest being 45 and the lowest 30, the normal being 35, which is 10 higher than the average for this time of year. The depth of water in the St. Mary's canal was 14.5.

Duluth, Nov. 8.—Local Forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: Continued fair; slight clouds in temperature; light variable winds.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: For Minnesota: Fair, probably followed by showers in northwest portions; southerly winds. For Wisconsin: Fair, with slight to southerly warmer in eastern portion.

National Bankruptcy Law.
With the repeal question of the way and the elections over, congress, when it reassembles next month, may be induced to give its whole attention to a subject that is of great importance to the commercial world. The Torrey national bankruptcy bill is a measure that has a great bearing on commercial prosperity, and its passage would largely supplement the good work which was performed when the silver purchase clauses of the Sherman act were repealed.

A letter which the New York board of trade has recently forwarded to the senators and representatives from the state of New York urging them to support the Torrey bill, states in a succinct form the many strong arguments in favor of this measure.

The New York board urges that a uniform, just and national bankruptcy law is essential to the well being of a commercial nation; that a protection of the credit system tends to cheapen the cost of commodities to the consumer, and that the increasing rapidity of transportation and communication has tended to change conditions which regulate interstate commerce. It is also insisted that as a commercial nation the United States must protect the foreign creditor; that the spectacle presented to foreign nations of forty-four varying insolvency systems in one country is neither elevating, civilizing, nor compatible with the country's rank and standing; that the present unjust state of the laws breeds roguery and chicanery, promotes perjury, and places a premium upon fraud; that the lack of a national bankruptcy law works injustice to the honest debtor; that the sentiment of the mercantile interests of the country has been unanimously declared to be in favor of a just, uniform and national law; that the Torrey bill has received the largest endorsement ever accorded to such a measure; that so vital a problem of protecting the credit system cannot be justly relegated to the states, whose interests are primarily local; that the agricultural interest will be benefited by the cheapening of all articles used or consumed by them; that clerks and laborers will be protected by such a measure, and that the standard of business honesty and morality will be elevated by the Torrey law.

These are certainly very strong arguments, and it is difficult to understand what valid reason any senator or representative can offer for refusing to support such a much needed law.

The "Harmless Lunatic."
The recent assassination of Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, by one who is denominated a "crank" and whose attorney will endeavor to prove him insane, and the subsequent outbreaks by "cranks" in other cities have caused considerable discussion of the best method of dealing with those who are known as "harmless lunatics."

In the current number of the North American Review there is an article on this subject by Dr. Henry Smith Williams, who expresses the opinion that the "harmless lunatics," outside an asylum, occupies a position strictly analogous to that of the historic "unloaded" pistol, and that each is responsible for about the same number of homicides. But the harmless weapon stops at that, while the harmless man easily takes the palm by adding a long list of other crimes. For most of these crimes the community can thank itself, because it foolishly tolerated in its midst a person whose only safe place of residence was an asylum. But one should not judge too harshly these excesses of altruism. We should remember rather that the extreme tolerance shown these unfortunates who frequent the border lands of sanity is but a manifestation of that love of liberty which has made possible the civilization in which we live. The ages which cast their paranoiacs into dungeons or executed them for witchcraft did not foster the spirit of liberty. Still one may, as Dr. Williams intimated, go to the other extreme, and the lesson taught the community from time to time by "harmless lunatics," who shoot their fellow citizens, explode bombs among them and the like, is wholesome and necessary, even though severe.

A single bomb exploded in New York not many months ago resulted indirectly in the confinement of a great number of insane persons who would otherwise have been free. The lesson taught by the fact that there has been committed a long category of crimes. The lesson cost a life, it is true, but quite possibly it saved a score of lives. The community was made to realize vividly, what every alienist knew, that the first untoward act by which the supposed harmless insane person manifested his true condition might be an irreparable crime. The lesson had been taught often enough before. Within a decade it had been emphasized by the murder of a chief executive of our country, but memory is fleeting, and its permanent records come only with many repetitions. Another year, says Dr. Williams, and it may safely be predicted, the New York juror will have forgotten the Norcross incident, and habeas corpus suits for removing "sane" persons from asylums will flourish again as of yore. A community which has witnessed without special comment the organization of a society for the prevention of the "incarceration of sane persons in asylums" in a day and age when no such atrocity as that implied is deemed of or could be practiced, does not yet bask very fully in the light of knowledge. It is in need of yet other lessons. Indeed, it almost seems as if no lesson would permanently suffice, and as if the "harmless lunatic" would pass, with the "unloaded" pistol, into the category of things perennial.

The starting of a world's museum in Chicago causes the Kansas City Star to remark: "Chicago, certainly the most successful modern effort in city building, is a continuing example of what may be done by making cities attractive as well as useful; and other cities, especially young cities in a formative state like Kansas City, may profit by that example. Museums, galleries, parks, boulevards, statues, fountains, baths, beautiful public buildings—these have from remotest time attracted men to cities; it was these that caused all roads to lead to Rome; it is such means that tend to the end of making Chicago great."

J. S. Clarkson, of Iowa, who poses as a Republican leader but who did not take the trouble to vote this year, is credited with saying that the recent panic was created by the bankers. This is an absurd statement, because the bankers suffered more than any other class from the financial depression.

The Republican victory in Massachusetts is not surprising, when we are told that employees in Lowell have lost this year three quarters of a million of dollars by the closing of mills, wholly or partly. In addition to this, the old Bay state is always Republican in national issues.

The Chicago City Railway company has donated to the Columbian museum $50,000 in cash and 10,000 shares of stock. The company can well afford this donation, in view of the immense profits it made during the fair.

George B. Swift, who has been chosen as mayor pro tem of Chicago, will probably be the Republican candidate for mayor, and in view of the result of Tuesday's election in Chicago his chances of success at the polls should be very good.

Horace Boies, of Iowa, was not as shrewd as that very clever young man, William E. Russell, of Massachusetts, and he went down in the landslide. There are numerous "down-in-the-mud" chieftains on the Democratic side this week.

The fight in New York state was not exactly a party one. It was that of Hill and Tammany against the purity of the bench, and the former was unmercifully beaten.

The result of Tuesday's state elections is already overshadowed by the interest in The Herald's majority contest.

To Make More Room.
Superior Leader: It is reported that the avenues in Washington will be widened so Congressman Baldwin can pass without bumping his head.

Lowell's Modesty.
Burlington, Vt., Republican: Governor Lowell in his speeches classes Jesus Christ, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and himself together as anarchists. His modesty in not mentioning himself first is most becoming.

Not Up to the Tweak Standard.
New York Advertiser: The insolence and arrogance of the Tammany heebers and bosses who allege to believe that their power is irresistible and unchallengeable is exceedingly offensive, but doesn't come up to old Tweed's standard.

A Job for Teller.
Washington Star: There does not seem to be much for Secretary Teller to do just at present, except to sit around and wait out his winter clothes.

READMITTED TO THE MAILS.
Chicago, Nov. 9.—Assistant Attorney General Thomas, of the postoffice department, has decided that the Guarantee Bond Investment company, of Chicago, may resume business, provided it complies with certain requirements which he has laid down. This company was denied the use of the mails some weeks ago upon the ground that its business involved a lottery scheme.

It is estimated by the postoffice department that there are more than two of these bond investment companies throughout the country, and steps were taken some time since to shut them all out of the mails for the reason that they advertised sales of bonds to be selected by "chance," much after the manner of the selection of tickets by lotteries.

Assistant Attorney General Thomas says: "I have held that where a bond investment company informs purchasers what bonds they can buy, and the purchasers insert in their applications the identical numbers of the bonds they buy, and these numbers are actually issued to the purchasers, and the plan of maturity is fully made known to purchasers before they procure the bonds, then the companies do not conduct a lottery scheme. The Guarantee Bond Investment company has signified its intention to fully comply with this decision and it will be permitted to resume the use of the mails."

RAN INTO AN OPEN SWITCH.
A Train on the Washburn Wrecked and a Fireman Killed.
MOBERLY, Mo., Nov. 9.—The Chicago "cannon ball" train on the Washburn road, which left Kansas City Tuesday evening, struck an open switch in the yards here. It is reported that no lock could be found when the railroad men looked for it and that the switch was half open.

The engine turned on its left side catching the fireman, William Malone, beneath it. He was fatally scalded and died at the Washburn hospital here. Frank Robertson, the engineer, was badly but not fatally hurt. Several passengers were slightly injured.

A Brief Pronouncement.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—In issuing his thanksgiving proclamation yesterday Governor Stone fell into the error of supposing that there were only four Thursdays in November this year. He further confused matters by indorsing the president's proclamation, but declaring that it fixed the fourth Thursday as the day.

THE WRONG MAN WAS SHOT.
The Reckless Shooting Done by a School Teacher in Colorado.
GRANADA, Col., Nov. 9.—Dennis H. Dickson, a school teacher of this town, went gunning Monday for Frank Lee. Near the postoffice, thinking he saw him, Dickson began shooting, and A. S. Thompson received a ball which broke his arm. Frank Millburn, and A. S. Thompson received a ball which broke his arm. Dickson was shot in the shoulder. Dickson was overpowered and turned over to the sheriff, when he told his story. He says that Lee met Miss Maude Dickson, a girl of 18, while she was out on the prairie, on horseback after the cows. Lee seized the bride reins of her horse, threw her off and criminally assaulted her. Then he lifted her upon the horse and started the horse off. She was too weak to ride and fell off in a swoon. Late in the afternoon she recovered sufficiently to walk to where her horse had been tied by some one, but she was too ill to mount, so she turned the horse loose, and, hoping it would find its way back to her, she returned to her home. The horse did so and, seizing party found the girl at 7 o'clock at night. Dickson started out for Lee. Lee took a rifle and went to the house where he was captured by a dozen armed men, who captured him and turned him over to the sheriff. He denies the girl's story.

The Gratitude of a Lady Cured by Kickapoo Indian Remedies.
DANVILLE, ILL., Oct. 26.
I feel it my duty to express my gratitude for what the Kickapoo Indian Remedies have done for me. I was suffering with Neuritis, and had to stay up every night for weeks. I continued to use it and also used Kickapoo Indian Sagwa at the same time until I was entirely cured. Many of my friends have used your Remedies for different troubles, and find them to be exactly as advertised. I believe everybody who is suffering should use them, as we are all brothers and sisters in Christ. I will never again be troubled with Neuritis. AN INDIAN ROMANCE

The Aborigines Are Catching on to the Ropes as Well as Their White Brethren.

A Stillwater Mill Hand Met a Shocking Death, Being Crushed in a Band Saw Pulley.

The Coal Combine Proved Too Strong and the Citizens' Company Quit Operations This Winter.

RED WING, Nov. 10.—A story of married unhappiness comes from the dusky Indian village on Prairie island, a few miles above this city, and it has in it all the elements of sensationalism that characterize tales of domestic woe so often told in court. It is evident that the aborigines are catching on to the ropes as well as their white brethren. The marriage was performed in this city and the young couple took up their home in a wigwam on Prairie island to cast their lot among others of their tribe. They were both extremely young, and she, after six years of married life, seems but a girl in years.

The friends and relatives of the young couple bespoke for them a happy and prosperous future, but it was not destined to last long. For a while they lived happily together until the dusky lord became suspicious that there was something wrong in the wigwam. Chagrined his young spouse with infidelity, he left the place broken in heart and spirits, as some tender-hearted paleface would have been under similar circumstances. The husband, who believes himself wronged, now lives in South Dakota, and in the circuit court of that state, that state, it will be proved if his suspicions are without foundation. He has instituted divorce proceedings against his wife, who now lives with her parents.

The complaint traces her guilt back to November of last year. The plaintiff asks for the custody of their only child, a bright-eyed boy of 4 years. In her answer the defendant denies every allegation and claims that she can prove her character to be spotless. The case will be watched with a great deal of interest.

MET A SHOCKING DEATH.

A Stillwater Mill Hand Crushed in a Band Saw Pulley.

STILLWATER, Nov. 10.—A shocking fatality occurred at Atwood's sawmill yesterday. Elias Gunnersay being crushed in the band saw pulley. He had been oiling and apparently fell onto the shaft. He was thrown thirty feet, where his lifeless body was found.

MONEY FOR MISSIONS.

The Amount to Be Expended by the Methodist Church.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—After a debate of nearly six hours, and which covered the greater portion of two sessions the general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon decided upon the sum of $1,500,000 as the amount to be appropriated for the work of domestic and foreign missions for the ensuing fiscal year.

This result was not attained until nearly two scores of resolutions, many of them of a semi-political character, had been addressed to the committee.

THE COMBINE TOO STRONG.

The Citizens' Fuel Company Unable to Get Coal.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 10.—The Minnesota Fuel company, started by the committee of fifty, two weeks ago, to smash the coal combine, has been forced to go out of business.

The combine got the company which agreed to furnish the new company with coal to cancel its contract and so the new company was not able to secure a pound of coal except by ordering it by rail from Chicago, which would have been too expensive.

America's Great Danger

AN ENGLISH COMMENTARY.

Said an eminent English scientist recently: "The danger that confronts the great American people today is not the possible adoption of a wrong financial policy for the nation, or the spread of socialism, or the increase of corruption among public men. All these are bad enough, to be sure, but they are as nothing compared to the terrible national disease—I had almost said national crime—of overwork. The mad rush for wealth is set at a killing pace, and thousands fall by the way every year."

You are likely to be one of the victims! How do we know? Because it is the exception to find a man or woman of adult age in perfect health. Nervous Disorders are spreading with fearful rapidity. Among the symptoms are—Backache, Biliousness, Cold Flashes and Feet, Dizziness, Hot Flashes, Fluttering Sensation, Fainting, Headache, Hysteria, Irritability of the Heart, Melancholy, Failing Memory, Irritability, Rheumatism, Short Breath, Sleeplessness, Nervous Dyspepsia, Sexual Debility, Fits, etc.

Rev. C. A. CARROLL, pastor First Baptist Church, Yellow Springs, O., writes as follows: "I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for the past six months. I find it acts like a charm on the whole nervous system, or, if he have not found its equal in giving immediate relief. Dr. Miles' Little Nerve and Liver Pills only need a trial and they will recommend themselves to be the best pills in the market."

"For five years I have suffered from Nervous Prostration. I was unable to work or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine gave me relief, and one thousand dollars would not cover the good it has done me."—JOHN MINCHIE, Youngstown, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is unequalled in curing Nervous Diseases. It contains no opiates or dangerous drugs. Sold by a positive guarantee to the druggists, or Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

The supreme court at Madison, Wis., has reversed the judgment of the Milwaukee circuit court, which gave Mrs. Jennie Nellis $200 for libel against the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin. DEMING, N. M., Nov. 10.—Frank Seibold, a merchant of Palomas, Mex., four miles below the border, arrived here yesterday and brings news that fifty Tomochi Indians on Wednesday sacked that town.

They are one of the scattering bands of Indians who survived the horrible massacre in the engagement with Diaz's soldiers last May and have since been roaming in the mountains. In the raid on Palomas they fired on the custom house guards, numbering thirteen, killed one of them and his horse and then rifled the custom house, carrying away twenty-five carbines and pistols, $200 rounds of ammunition and $300 in money. They appropriated provisions and other supplies from the stores. One of the marauding band was killed in the engagement. After the raid they camped in the town until prepared to leave. The government has ordered out troops.

The Great Western Manufacturing Company is in receipt of new orders this week and the prospects now are that the coming winter will be a busy one at these shops. THE CONNOLLEY ARGUMENTS.

Attorney Baldwin Said a Word or Two About Religious Beliefs. In the Connolley case Prosecuting Attorney Dwan closed his argument at 3 o'clock and Attorney Baldwin for the defense took the floor. For about ten minutes he spoke on the principles of law and then touched on an interesting phase which has not come up in the case heretofore.

He told the jurors that they probably had noticed that he had questioned none of them as to their religious belief. This was because he cared nothing about what they were.

It made no difference to him whether a juror was a religious man or had never entered a church or was a member of the society known as the A. P. A.

What he did expect was that every one of them observe the Golden rule. "Do unto others as you would that they do unto you." He then discussed the evidence in the case.

The judge's charge took about twenty-five minutes and the jury retired at 4:35 p. m.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Nov. 10.—An area of low barometer has developed over South Dakota, where it is stationary
this morning without much energy or prospect of extending over the country, although it may get a start today and move to this section by tomorrow morning. The rest of the country as far as can be seen from the reports (all of the Northwest stations) is covered by a heavy area of high pressure, which is moving very slightly toward the coast and will doubtless bring the greater portion of the country.
Light snow is falling over Montana, and with the exception of a sprinkle at Margette there has been no precipitation during the past twenty-four hours. The temperature remains much the same as yesterday, being neither high or low, and seems inclined to remain that way today.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 47, the lowest last night was 43, the average yesterday 45.1; for the week ending today 45.1;
for the month ending today 45.1; for the year ending today 45.1. The depth of water in the St. Mary's canal was 11.2.

DULUTH, Nov. 10.—Local Forecast till 5 p. m.
tomorrow: Continued fair, possibly followed by light showers tonight; slight change in temperature; light easterly wind.

The Senate's Decline.
A notable article, printed anonymously in the November Forum, contrasts the senate of today with the senate of the days of Webster, Clay and Calhoun. A classification of the present senators, by six fair-minded judges, divides them into senators of the old type, professional politicians, plutocrats, accidents and oddities and old fogies. The history of individual senators, as revealed by an analysis of the "Congressional Directory" biographies, shows that most of them lack the traditional qualifications of their high office, the conclusion being that we put politics on a lower level than our fathers did, that we have as good a senate as we deserve to have, and that its inferior personnel simply denotes the decline of politics as one of the noble professions.

The trouble is that nowadays politics is regarded as a kind of service that we employ men to do who have an aptitude for inducing us to employ them, or men of another class who can afford to live on small salaries. Hence it is agreed that since the cause of the senate's decline is clearly the decline of the political spirit of the people, the senate will regain its dignity and its usefulness in proportion to the rise in the political spirit of the people. There is no mechanical device whereby the lost dignity can be restored. The election of senators directly or in effect by popular vote, methods that have been much discussed, would hardly improve the senate; for more dignified men than the senators?

The fact is that this is but another illustration of the fact that the stream cannot rise higher than its source. There is nothing to indicate that the people,
voting direct for United States senators,
would elect more statesmen and less demagogues than are now chosen by the legislatures, because the members of the legislature fairly represent the average intelligence and inclinations of the whole people.

Pine Land Frauds.
A notable conversion has taken place on the part of the Grand Rapids Magnet.
A year ago when The Herald was denouncing the pine land ring and its efforts to defeat Maj. Baldwin for congress, the Magnet declared that there was no such ring and that the frauds alleged to have taken place had no actual existence.

Recently the Magnet appears to have changed its views on this question. Its last issue contained the following: "If what has looked out relative to the results of the partial investigations of the pine land committee is true, the pine land owners of Minneapolis are guilty of downright robbery. Thousands of men for lessor crimes are now incarcerated within prison walls. And then the lumbermen object to paying taxes on their ill-gotten property. Perhaps they would like to have stolen all the pine land that floated down the river, manufactured into lumber and simply received the cash for it.
It commences to look as if many of the Minneapolis lumbermen will have to disgorge part of their plethoric bank accounts."

The Herald regrets to notice that the efforts of the federal authorities to root out the pine land frauds have not as yet been attended by a remarkable degree of success, owing to the inaptitude of many of the surveyors appointed by the secretary of the interior, who disregarded Maj. Baldwin's recommendations and appointed men who were named by Commissioner Lamareux. Secretary Smith has discovered his mistake, however, and is taking steps to rectify it, and consequently there is a chance that some of the gross frauds which this ring have in contemplation will be prevented, even if the frauds perpetrated in past years cannot be brought home to them.

No Great Change.
The broad claim that the Republican victories in the Northern states on Tuesday were an expression of popular fear of free trade is hardly sustained by the facts. Consequently it is not logical to claim that the Democratic congress should "heed the warning and refrain from tinkering with the tariff."

Take New York for instance. It cannot be correctly contended that either the defeat of the Democratic state ticket or the revolution in Kings county was due to the tariff question or to any other national issue. The fight was entirely one of candidates. The nomination of Maynard for the highest court of the state, at the instance of Senator Hill, was a bold defiance of public opinion, but the popular indignation at this brazen attempt to lower the standard of the judiciary was so great that Maynard was buried beneath a majority of nearly 100,000, given for the Republican candidate whose own record was not without flaw, and so strong was this opposition to Maynard that the whole state ticket went down with him. In Brooklyn it was a fight against bossism, and neither the tariff nor the silver question had anything to do with the result.

The result in Chicago was likewise
due to local issues. It was a personal fight waged by Governor Altgeld and his anarchistic friends against Judge Gary,
and the latter was victorious and carried the Republican judicial ticket to victory with him. The tariff had nothing to do with it.

Ohio is a Republican state, and it has been the center of a strong protection sentiment. Governor McKinley is strong personally. His election was anticipated by everybody. The only question was the size of his plurality. It has nearly touched 55,000, almost without precedent
in the Buckeye state, and it may be considered that it was largely a popular approval of his tariff views. Ohio stands with McKinley on the tariff question, and had he been the presidential candidate a year ago it would have given him its electoral vote. Iowa is another sate Republican state on national issues, and with the prohibition question largely eliminated this year it is not astonishing that the Republican ticket won this year with about the same plurality as Harrison had last year.

There is but little therefore in the result of Tuesday's elections to indicate any great change of public sentiment on the tariff question.
The Boston Baseball club having introduced scientific bunting, the other clubs are now combining to legislate the bunt out of existence. As the Philadelphia Times says, it is enough to turn the average lover of the game into a bleak, despairing pessimist. Is there to be any honest, fair-minded sport in this country, or is every sporting institution going to follow the example of Yale and try to kill the other fellows by legislation?

Henry Villard publishes a statement in New York defending the policy of the late management of the Northern Pacific railroad in building branch lines and in spending money in the improvement of the operating system of the road. He points out the fact that the increased earnings of the company from $6,350,112 net in 1886-1887 to $10,211,142
net in 1890-1891 justified the policy carried out.

Governor Fishback will have no prize-fighting in Arkansas. Says he: "We must at all hazards maintain our reputation as a state in which a refined and civilized people reside." He has failed, however, to stop lynching of negroes,
and consequently it is believed he considers that it is a refined and civilized amenment.

It is stated that fully 15,000 persons failed to secure anything in the rush for the Cherokee strip. Most of these had means to go away, but the outlook for

I was suffering with Neuralgia, and had to stay up every night for weeks.
At last I sent for a bottle of Kickapoo

I continued its use and also used Kick-time until Entirely Cured.

Many of my friends have used your

them to do exactly as advertised.
I believe everybody who is suffering
should use them, as we are all brothers questions as to what with the help of God they have done for me.

The company that was formed by St.

pretty big job. It was easy to figure how coal could be sold below the ruling prices, but not easy to get the coal.
Consequently the company has suspended operations for this season.

The Great Eastern Duluth

The People's Greatest Bargain
Givers.

Another Universal Scoop! Another Waterloo of Prices! Ever on the Alert for Bargains! Ever in the Field to Sell!

DOES ANYBODY THINK

That we, after having fought our way to the front by means of selling goods at lowest possible prices, will permit anyone to wrest from us the fruits of our victory? NOT MUCH! Go where you will learn the lowest price for which you can buy any article of Men's or Boys' Clothing, then come to us, we will sell you the same for much less money.

Do you suppose that we, having built up one of the biggest clothing businesses in the state by our low prices, are foolish enough to have it torn down by reason of being undersold by others? Instead of growing wearing of well doing, we are getting fresher every day. No matter what others charge, our prices will be lower every time.

Our facilities are such—no matter what others do—we are always able to do better! "Strictly on merit and always the best for the money to be had in America" is our motto. No misrepresentation to try and deceive the purchasing public, as some of our would-be competitors are trying to do; claiming to have bought at auction from NAUMBERG, KRAUSE, LAUER & CO., Oct. 31, all the choicest lots of their $500,000 stock, when in reality their entire purchase from above firm was less than $300—three hundred dollars.

DULUTHIANS, BEWARE!

This fake was sprung on the Superior public to try and dispose of their shop-worn accumulation, but failed; yet they have gall enough to come over here and try to spring it on our intelligent community, in connection with a job lot of old Furnishings that Dawkins could not sell in Superior. Such schemes are adopted only by unreliable and unsuccessful merchants who fail to succeed in their own city against competition who have better facilities.

TOMORROW, being the second year of "The Great Eastern," a house of solid progress and true merit, in our new store and building, we will celebrate the anniversary with one of the "GREATEST CHALLENGE SALES" ever offered to the public of Duluth.

THE LUMBER TRAFFIC

The Last Cargoes of the Shipping Season Will Probably Go Out of Duluth This Week.

The Record for This Year it is Believed Will Double That of Any Previous One.

Prospects for the Lumber Cut During the Coming Winter—The Market for Stumpage.

Shipments of lumber by water from Duluth will cease this week. But two cargoes yet remain and they probably will go out by tomorrow. C. H. Bradley, the prominent lumber commission man, estimates that fully 125,000,000 feet have been moved from the head of the lakes by water this season. That doubles the record of any previous years. Mr. Bradley who has handled 50,000,000 feet himself, heretofore has resided at Ray City, Mich., but has decided to make Duluth his future home and erect a fine residence of his own here.

The cause of this increased movement by water to the East has been greatly due to the condition of the markets to the West and Southwest. Heretofore the output of the Duluth mills has found a market almost exclusively in the trans-Mississippi and trans-Missouri regions. This season the farmers and other consumers have purchased almost no lumber whatever. They have been short of cash and then the implement men have pressed them very closely and secured the bulk of what money they have had. On the other hand, the freight rates to the East have been very low, which has favored Eastern shipments. There also has been a good demand down there and the dealers have, as a rule, stocked up quite well. Lately, too, they have been paying cash and discounting their bills, which has both pleased, surprised and encouraged Duluth dealers. Good prices, too, have been maintained, and, on the whole, dealers in touch with the Eastern trade will come out pretty well and have really no cause for complaint.

The interior mills in this district have not, however, fared so well. Their chief market is the great West, and as stated, that has been practically nothing this summer. Take the Cloquet mills for example—the chief part of the season's output is still in the yards, waiting for purchasers.

The outlook for winter logging is much better than a few weeks ago. The Cranberry Lumber company, for example, which usually puts out about 45,000,000 feet of logs, this winter will bank about 55,000,000 feet. That will be increased in proportion as the appearance of the times warrant it. Other firms are in about the same situation. If the outlook warrants it after while, the probable result will be a full output.

Labor will be cheap this winter. The prices offered are $14, $16, and $18 per month. Those are maximum prices, too, based on all winter's contract. If a man jumps his job he very likely will find that his time check calls for about $13 per month. There are ten men employed where one is taken and while new rail road work and the resumption of mining operations is draining off much of the surplus labor, there will be some idle men this winter, nevertheless.

Camp supplies are a little lower this winter than a year ago, but outfitters ask cash or very short time. This is embarrassing to small contractors and may keep some of them out of the field this season. Usually outfitters have been glad to furnish the supplies on as long time as desired or required by the contractor.

On the whole, the prospects for a larger output next year than this, are excellent. There is a little inquiry for stumpage but no boom at all or special activity. Stumpage in blocks held by syndicates, is not offered. Nothing but bargains is in demand. The timber and stone law has resulted in about 200,000,000 feet of pine being placed on the market in lots of from 700,000 to 1,000,000 feet by those who have proved up on their claims. Many of this class of holders are hard up and their offerings are very reasonable. Many of these deals are also made for the purpose of grouping tracts of pine. By a year from now, stumpage will, it is thought, be back in price to where it was a year or eight months ago. White pine is steadily decreasing and its value is steadily increasing.

Three new mills are in process of construction but it is not thought that their operations will materially increase the output in this district. One is the new mill of Duncan, Brewer & Co., to take the place of the one burned. The capacity will possibly be in the neighborhood of 25,000 feet per annum. The second mill is that of C. S. Murray, which comes to this side of the bay from West Superior. The probable capacity will be 20,000,000,000 feet per annum. The Knox Lumber company is putting up a mill in the Fall Lake country. It will operate one rotary and a band saw and have a capacity of about 160,000 feet daily.

A First Class Candidate.
To the Editor of The Herald:

I enclose herewith my list for my choice for mayor of Duluth in the person of William E. Richardson, and beg leave to give some reasons why in my judgment he would make a splendid mayor for our growing city.

Mr. Richardson has been a resident of Duluth for several years and has been and still is vitally interested in its growth, prosperity and development. He has been particularly interested in and identified with our educational interests as president of our school board and by his ability and industry, contributed largely to the erection and early completion of the High School building, sacrificing personal interests very greatly by so doing. He is in the very prime of manhood and at the period of best development, both physical and intellectual.

He is generous, charitable and honest, and will, if chosen, bring to the administration of the affairs of the city the same abilities which have made him successful in a business career; and having never been identified with any clique or ring or faction, will be unprejudiced and uninfluenced by methods that too frequently bring disgrace and dishonor upon those who administer municipal affairs. His independence in this regard, and having "neither friends to reward or foes to punish," will enable him to conduct the affairs of the city of Duluth in the interests of the people, free from all and any of the complications that too frequently embarrass public officers.

The above are a few of the reasons that suggest themselves to me why Mr. Richardson is eminently fit for the position, and why I cast my vote for him rather than for any other among the large number of worthy gentlemen who have been named by others for the place.

A VOTER.

Duluth, Nov. 10.

A Good Thing.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I wish to say as a citizen of Duluth that the voting contest for the most popular man for mayor introduced by your paper is certainly a most commendable action, as it not only impresses all citizens with the importance of giving their attention to who is being voted into office, but unavoidably brings before the people the names of the most prominent citizens. Citizens who pay taxes, employ labor, own business industries, whose interests are vitally dependent upon the prosperity of our city, are the men who should govern. There is probably no man in Duluth who would make a better mayor than Ben Howard who now heads your list, and there should be a strong endeavor made to induce some such man to accept the nomination. A CITIZEN.

Duluth, Nov. 10.

A Death of Offenders.
There came near not being a session of the police court this morning, owing to a dearth of wrong doers. John Tyler, a plasterer, who had a cold and took too much liquor as a remedy, was given a suspension of sentence. Last night Officer Terry caught Joseph Lapelle going down an alley with some toothsome chickens on his back. Joseph was lodged in the city lockup and this afternoon will be arraigned on the charge of petit larceny.

The Red Wing Conference.
Secretary Buchanan, of the jobbers union, returned last evening from Red Wing. The members of the committee got home yesterday morning. The conference with the officials of the Red Wing & Southern road was perfectly satisfactory. They agreed with the Duluthians that it would be more advisable to eventually build to Omaha than to Sioux City. The road officials are more than anxious to get to Duluth, and will make an effort to build as soon as possible.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system, when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is too fast for the good that can possibly derive from them. THE STATUS QUO

Secretary Gresham Urges That This Government Should Repair a Wrong Done to the Hawaiians.

Held That the Revolution Succeeded by the Aid of Minister Stevens and the Marines.

Instructions in Accordance With This Report Were Given to Minister Willis and Admiral Irwin.

They Were to Restore the Queen to the Throne and Then Withdraw the Marines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—In the absence of any information except that derivable by inference from Secretary Gresham's report to the president as to what instructions have been given to Minister Willis and Admiral Irwin, there is a wide field for speculation opened as to the means which, in all probability, have by this time been used to "restore the legitimate government" of Hawaii and thus "repair the wrong done to a feeble but independent state by an abuse of the authority of the United States."

In one of the earliest intimations given as to the possibility of a course of action, such as is now recommended by Secretary Gresham and made public with the approval of the president and the rest of his cabinet, a statement was made, as it coming indirectly from Minister Willis, who had just had a personal conference with President Cleveland at the White House, that the question, which form of government they preferred, ought to be submitted to a vote of the people of Hawaii. This view of the matter, it is noticed, is brought out quite prominently in Secretary Gresham's synopsis of Commissioner Blount's report, in which he says:

"Mr. Blount states that while at Honolulu he did not meet a single nationalist who expressed willingness to submit the question to a vote of the people, nor did he talk with one on that subject who did not insist that if the islands were annexed suffrage should be so restricted as to give complete control to foreigners or whites, and representative annexationists have repeatedly made similar statements to the undersigned."

Reasoning from these slender bases of fact and without any other direct statement to either confirm or contradict the hypothesis, it is thought probable that Minister Willis' course has been to advise the provisional government that it is the desire of the United States that the question as to which government is preferred by the people of the islands—that of the queen or that of President Dole—shall be submitted to the vote of all those residents of the islands who have a right to vote under the constitution of 1887.

Whether or not, pending this appeal to the people, Admiral Irwin and Minister Willis have received direct instructions to reinstate the constitutional sovereignty will probably not be authoritatively made known until the next Honolulu mail arrives in San Francisco.

TO RESTORE THE QUEEN.

Startling Report by Secretary Gresham Regarding Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—After the cabinet meeting yesterday, Secretary Gresham gave out a report upon the Hawaiian question which he submitted to the president, and in accordance with which instructions have been given to Minister Willis and Admiral Irwin. The report says:

"The provisional government was established by the action of the American minister, and the presence of the United States in the Hawaiian Islands, and its continued existence is due to the belief of the Hawaiians that if they made an effort to overthrow it they would encounter the armed forces of the United States."

"It is now claimed that a majority of the people having the right to vote under the constitution of 1887, never favored the existing authority or annexation to this or any other country. They earnestly desire that the government of their choice be restored and its independence respected."

"The government of Hawaii surrendered its authority under a threat of war, until such time only as the government of the United States, upon the facts being presented to it, should reinstate the constitutional sovereignty, and the provisional government was created to exist until terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon."

"Should not the great wrong done to a feeble but independent state by an abuse of the authority of the United States be repaired by restoring the legitimate government? Anything short of that would not, I respectfully submit, satisfy the demands of justice."

BAD FIRE AT ANOKA.

Millions of Feet of Lumber in Page Bros' Yards Burned.

ANOKA, Minn., Nov. 11.—Yesterday afternoon this city was visited by the most disastrous fire which has occurred here since the big blaze of 1884.

At 1:30 p.m. was discovered in the lumber yards of Page Bros., and this morning all that remains of millions of feet of lumber is smoldering ashes.

The local fire department was not able to compete with the flames and were compelled to ask aid from St. Paul, which arrived too late to be of much service. The loss is estimated at $70,000; partially covered by insurance.

A TOO CURIOUS BOY.

Set Fire to a School to See the Pupils March Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The grammar school, containing 700 young children, was discovered on fire during school hours yesterday afternoon. The children marched out in an orderly manner when the alarm was given, and there was no panic.

The fire started in the garret and was extinguished before much damage was done. Miles Bird, a 14-year-old pupil, confessed that he lighted the fire in the garret just to see how the pupils would get out of the school in case of a real fire. He was arrested.

A TRAIN ROBBERY

Masked Men Held up and Robbed an Illinois Central Train in Kentucky This Morning.

The Engineer Forced With a Revolver at His Head to Stop on a Trestle.

They Proceeded to the Express Car and Took a Package Containing Seven Thousand Dollars.

Not a Shot Fired, According to One Report, and the Passengers Were Not Disturbed.

BARDWELL, Ky., Nov. 11.—Three masked robbers held up a north bound train on the main line of the Illinois Central early this morning at Mayfield Creek trestle, two and one-half miles north of Mayfield Junction. The express car was robbed of two money packages, one containing $33, addressed to J. S. Titus, Chicago, and the other a bag of money containing about $7000 in transfer from New Orleans to Chicago. The express messenger saved the remainder of the contents of the safe.

About 3 o'clock, while the train was leaving Bardwell, three men climbed over the tank and one of the robbers said to Engineer Clark: "Pull out as soon as you can." At the same time the robber grabbed the left arm of the engineer and one of them put a Colt's revolver under his ear, ordering him at the same time to do what they wanted or they would kill him. At that time the fireman ran away and got on to the engine, where he remained in hiding until the robbers had finished their work. While this was going on, the passengers in the two sleepers and three coaches which made up the train were in ignorance, as all were asleep and no firing was done and were not going to bother the engineer wanted to get down and put in some coal, but the robbers refused to let him stir from his seat in the cab. One of the robbers did the firing for him from Bardwell to Port Jefferson, and ordered him to stop the train on the Mayfield trestle.

The engineer insisted that the robbers should let him put the flagman out to protect the rear end of the train and the lives of the passengers, because they had passed a freight train at Bardwell, which might run into them. This the robbers agreed to, and when the train was stopped by their hand at the trestle they forced the engineer at the point of their guns to go in front of them to the express car door and open it. He shouted to Express Messenger McNeil to open the door and not shoot, as he was in front of the robbers.

One of the robbers went into the car and came out with several bundles, which he put into a sack. He told the engineer to pick up his dynamite on the platform of the car and put it in another sack, which Clark did. In the robbers' company, and with revolvers close to his head, the engineer carried the train to Port Jefferson, where the robbers got behind some piling and shouted to the engineer to pull out.

In reply to Clark's question, the robbers said they were not going to bother the passengers, and they kept their promise. All the robbers wore soft hats and masks of black cloth completely covering their heads, with only holes cut in for seeing. All carried double barreled shotguns and revolvers.

The sheriff of Ballard and Carlisle, as well as the marshal at Fulton, Tenn., as soon as they were notified of the hold-up, started with a posse in different directions in pursuit of the robbers with trained bloodhounds. Second Vice President Harahan of the Illinois Central sent word along the line to spare no money to bring the robbers to the penitentiary, and a reward will be offered for their capture.

STORY OF THE CONDUCTOR.

Says He and the Messenger Made a Futile Resistance.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 11.—The Illinois Central train, which was held up by masked robbers at Mayfield Creek bridge, arrived here at 2:30 this morning, thirty-five minutes late.

The story told by the conductor is that five robbers boarded the train when it stopped at Bardwell, two climbing on the engine and three on the end of the baggage and express cars. They ordered the train to be stopped at once. Fireman Butler, colored, became frightened and jumped from the train as it slowed up. One of the robbers fired at Engineer Richard Clark but the shot went wide of its mark. Conductor Charles Shearin and Express Messenger E. B. McNeil made a valiant resistance, but they could accomplish nothing in the face of the loaded guns. Conductor Shearin fired once at the robbers but hit nobody.

As soon as the train stopped the robbers entered the express car at the point of their pistols, securing $32 in cash and a sealed package containing $7000. The passengers were neither molested nor hit.

All Central Cuba is said to be in a state of disturbance, and it is believed that the spirit of rebellion will sweep over the island with a force that the government will find more formidable than any former outbreak.

An armed expedition will leave from this vicinity for Cuba in less than twenty-four hours.

TWENTY-ONE PERSONS KILLED.

A Terrible Explosion in a Chemist's Shop in Poland.

WARSAW, Nov. 11.—A despatch from Brest-Litovsk, a town of Russian Poland, reports an accident there today that resulted in the loss of many lives.

A terrific explosion occurred in the shop of a chemist, and the building in which the shop was located was completely shattered, as were also the adjacent houses. Each of the buildings contained several families.

Twenty-one persons were killed outright, and many others were injured. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by fire reaching the ether in the chemist's shop, a considerable quantity of it having been stored on the premises.

There is a Bold Band of Organized Crooks Who Are Stealing Right and Left.

Ashland Authorities Scouring the Woods For a Man Who Tried to Wreck a Train.

BIWABIK, Minn., Nov. 11.—[Special to The Herald.]—This vicinity is afflicted with a bold band of organized thieves. It is pretty well understood that it is responsible for the robbery of a store both at Merritt and Mesaba Station. There are probably a dozen in it, and detectives who have been working on the case positively know the names of eight of the gang. Yesterday the gang's headquarters were raided out of the Little Mesaba mining camp, but no evidences of stolen goods were found. The gang, it is pretty well understood, had a tip-off, and effectually concealed all plunder. The authorities are still searching the country around here and if possible will find the stolen property.

Detective Morris, of Duluth, was here most of this week watching for wrongdoers. For four nights he lay on the racks of a freight car containing merchandise. About 3 o'clock Thursday morning three men approached the car. One stood at each end and the third, who had a key to the lock, entered. Morris pulled his revolver and crawled out from his place of concealment. The two guards fled. The fellow in the car attempted to jump out, but a revolver shot caused him to stay inside. He was ordered up and guarded until morning. About 5:30 a. m. when a gang of French workmen passed by their daily labor, the prisoner was released. He was French and asked assistance to escape. Only by a determined resistance with a drawn revolver, was the detective able to keep the prisoner.

About 8 o'clock Morris left his prisoner in charge of the station agent, while he went up town for the village marshal. Before he got back the morning train came in and the agent was compelled to attend to his wire. The prisoner, with a pick which he found inside, pried open the door and escaped.

HIDING IN THE WOODS.
 Ashland Authorities Scouring the Woods for a Train Wrecker.

ASHLAND, Wis., Nov. 11.—A would-be train wrecker has been leading the authorities of Ashland and Bayfield counties in a merry chase for several months past. This man for whom the officers are searching is one Jim Smith, who several months ago gave the crew of a Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic train such a scare. Along he planned a daring train robbery—at least a full investigation of the case has divulged no accomplices—and it was to be a robbery of the Jesse James' order, too. He planned to wreck the passenger train first, and do his pilfering during the commotion which followed.

He was arrested after a hard chase and taken to Washburn. After three days' confinement he knocked the jailer on the head and escaped to the woods, where he has since eluded capture.

CLARA FOISY'S FOLLY.
 A Young Married Woman of Little Falls Took Her Own Life.

LITTLE FALLS, Minn., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Clara Foisy, wife of Joseph Foisy, and eldest child of Mayor and Mrs. Richardson, committed suicide Wednesday evening by drowning in the Mississippi river. Her health had been poor for years, and she had often expressed a hope that her life would end.

The woman had tied a clothes line about herself and then to a log, evidently so her body would not drift away. She was drowned in about two feet of water. She was about 35 years old.

GREAT NORTHERN TERMINALS.
 Opinion Obtained on Land in Tacoma Addition.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 11.—The fact became known yesterday that a railroad supposed to be the Great Northern has secured an option on land at Commencement Bay, an addition to Tacoma, for terminals from Allen C. Mason, of this city. It is the same land that the Union Pacific had an option on but allowed to expire. According to the proposition, the work must be commenced by February next, and the railroad completed and in operation by July 1.

Held Up a Gambler.
 TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 11.—A masked man entered the Nevada saloon last evening at 11 o'clock, walked through to the gambling room and pulled a gun on Chris Johnson, the only dealer present, ordering him to hold up his hands. The dealer complied and the robber took $1100 and escaped.

A Copper Discovery.
 SHERBOGAN, Wis., Nov. 11.—While grading on the streets in this city yesterday workmen unearthed a vein of copper ore. Several large specimens that were picked up were pronounced by parties acquainted in the Lake Superior copper regions to be quite similar to those found there.

Frank H. Smith, judge in charge of the first of C. H. Morris & Son, of Rochester, and Miss Medora O'Ferrall, only daughter of Mrs. I. F. O'Ferrall, were wedded at Duluth, Bishop Whipple officiating.

A large frame barn in the heart of Sauk Center, belonging to R. O. Hall, was burned Thursday. It was occupied by the Sauk Center Transfer company, which lost all its outfit except one omnibus. Eleven horses were burned to death. Loss, $3500; no insurance, except upon the omnibus which was saved. The fire was of incendiary origin.

Theodore Walder and George Dewey were fatally hurt in a mill about four miles from Black River Falls, Wis., by the bursting of a circular saw.

S. L. Prentiss, assistant cashier of the Second National bank of Winona, and son of the president of the same institution, and Miss Maude W. Laird, daughter of H. W. Laird, of the lumber firm of Laird, Morton & Co., were married Thursday evening.

The board of county commissioners of Goodhue county has decided to use all efforts to have orphans who are a charge of the county adopted in respectable and well-to-do families. The board has arranged for a poor masters as they were before the new poor law went into effect.

Fire destroyed the barn on the farm of Rollin Goodhue, north of Pipestone, yesterday morning. A threshing machine, four head of horses, 200 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of oats were destroyed. By hard work the house near by was saved.

The two cases of the state against Thomas Carstenson, an old resident, charged with assault upon the persons of two girls, have been tried in the district court at Red Wing. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Preferred Death.
 CENTER POINT, ARK. Nov. 11.—Miller Davis, who was convicted of murdering Sheriff Doherty near Chapel Hill on Oct. 23, 1892, was hanged yesterday. Davis was indifferent to his fate and said he preferred death on the scaffold to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The judges and magistrates are so busy that they have to have a special court for the purpose of hearing cases. Get out of the way.

FAVORS THE HUNTERS

The Glorious Indian Summer Days Are Much Appreciated by the Hunters of This Vicinity.

They Have Been Out in Force and Are Still Out in Search of Venison.

A Party of Wisconsin Hunters Prepared for Slaughtering Deer This Winter Despite the Law.

The weather of the past week has been only such as favors the hunters of the Northwest. These glorious Indian summer days, with the frost-touched leaves flashing like signal fires from hill to hill, and just a bracing touch in the wind to tell of blizzards by and by, are the days to be in the woods and the hunters have been out in force and are still out in quest of venison. And many a big buck has been downed. The meat markets, commission men and express companies have reaped a rich harvest. The Kurcka market has handled not less than twenty-five, and the others nearly as many. Three bears have been brought in. Moose and caribou are protected until 1895, but "signs" are plenty and if the law is only observed there will be grand hunting in the north woods when the law expires.

There is a growing sentiment among the Duluth sportsmen that illegal fishing should be stopped and the pot hunters will find crust hunting risky business. More big game is killed by these individuals by being run down in the deep snow by the use of snow shoes than in any other way.

A party of Wisconsin hunters were in town Monday laying in supplies for the winter. It was supposed that the deer season closed in Wisconsin Nov. 1, but evidently it is still open. A talk with these woodsmen drew out the fact that five of them had killed 175 deer in the woods between Little Canada and the Hule river. They made no secret of their methods. They "shined" nearly every deer they shot. Another year of slaughter like the present and venison will be as scarce as buffalo steaks.

There is much to look forward to in the shape of sport when the hunting season ends and the hunters are snow bound. The newly reorganized Athletic Club will fill the gap. The rink at Glen Avon promises to be the center of great interest this winter. Curling, polo, skating, indoor baseball and like sports will be enjoyed here as never before at the head of the lake.

Hands Off!
The report of Secretary of State
Gresham with reference to the government of Hawaii is of a decidedly astonishing character. It is a startling policy upon which the administration has decided— to reinstate the deposed queen and set aside the provisional government which was established at the downfall of the monarchy.

There are many reasons why the request of the provisional government and its supporters for the annexation of their country to the United States should not be granted, but the mind searches in vain for any solid argument in favor of this government taking any active measures to replace Queen Liliuokalani upon the throne from which she was removed by an uprising among the residents of Honolulu. Secretary Gresham's contention is that, because the revolutionists threatened the queen and her advisers that if they resisted, the United States naval force would come to their aid and a war would be the result; that because the queen, in view of this threat, made no forcible resistance to being deposed, and that because the American marines were then landed from the Boston to support the provisional government, which was unable otherwise to maintain itself in power, therefore this government is bound by the demands of justice to restore "the legitimate government."

In the light of the facts published by those who have carefully inquired into all the circumstances attending the revolution by which the Hawaiian monarchy was overthrown, Secretary Gresham's argument appears to be totally unsound. Minister Stevens may have been hasty in recognizing the provisional government; this is a debatable question. But there is nothing to show that the provisional government would not have been maintained had the marines from the Boston been landed. They were employed to preserve order and they did that and nothing more.

That the government of the United States should now proceed to upset the provisional government and restore the monarchy would be a gross outrage upon the people of Honolulu who successfully conducted the revolution that ended in the provisional government being set up, pending a settlement of the annexation question, and President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham will find that the people of the United States will not give their approval or sanction to such a monstrous proceeding.
If the administration is opposed to the annexation idea, let it say so and leave the people of Hawaii alone to decide what their next step shall be. If they want to restore the monarchy, well and good. If they desire to have a republic, all right.

This country has no right to interfere with either decision, and it will not be warranted in attempting to force a decision one way or the other, much less to establish a change in the order of things, without giving the people of Hawaii an opportunity to indicate their wishes.
President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham should keep their hands off.

Not Due to the Tariff.
There is no more independent journal
in the country than the Kansas City Star.
There is no taint of partisanship about it.
It is absolutely independent in thought and active, fearless and outspoken, and usually sound upon all the leading questions that arise. Its comments upon the results of last Tuesday's elections are therefore more worthy of consideration than those of the mere party organs who look at the returns through their party spectacles and interpret the result from their biased standpoint.

The Herald yesterday expressed the belief that the tariff had little to do with the elections last Tuesday. The Kansas City Star, after a careful survey of the field and the numerous local issues that were raised in the various states, has arrived at the same conclusion. It therefore takes exception to the claim by ex-President Harrison that it was the desire of the people to retain the present tariff that worked out the Republican victory last Tuesday. "The people," says the Star, "when they had a chance to decide the tariff question, placed the matter in Mr. Cleveland's hands. The party bosses tried to overshadow it, and the people rebuked the bosses. The bosses and not the tariff were made the issue of the late election; Mr. Harrison is a trifle light when he talks about the tariff.
He never did entirely understand it."

Returning Prosperity.
There is a confidence and a cheerfulness in the statements of the commercial agencies this week that makes the return of the condition of trade more interesting than usual. R. G. Dun & Co.
assert in positive language that the turn of the tide has come. Since the elections there has been a distinct improvement in business and particularly in manufacturing. There is some increase in actual transactions and much in the tone of business. Men of parties feel that there is ground for greater confidence, the silver question being pretty definitely out of the way and the chance of disturbing action in other respects being lessened, while the right of the people to rule their rulers has been vindicated.

Much more confidence is felt in the future of monetary affairs since the repeal of the silver bill, and it is the common estimate that the result of the elections will tend to prevent further action in the direction of silver coinage or paper inflation. The number of failures is gradually decreasing, money is abundant and cheap, and all the signs are of a very encouraging nature.

Bradstreet's review is equally bright.
It says: "Severe positive and significant evidences of actual improvement in industrial lines are found in telegrams to Bradstreet, more particularly the announcement that makers of rails at Pittsburg refuse to quote for 1894 delivery at the cut in price published three days ago, thus indicating the growth of a demand to meet future requirements and a corresponding strengthening of the position of manufacturers." To those who regard iron as the barometer of trade, and indications of a renewed demand will be strong signs of returning prosperity.

A careful analysis of statistics on the subject shows that at twenty years of age a temperate person is supposed to have a chance of living for forty-four years. Should the same person, still living a temperate life, reach the age of sixty-six, the chances are that he will live fourteen years longer. At twenty years of age an intemperate person is calculated to have a chance of living only to the age of thirty-five, while if he survives sixty his chance of life is limited to eight years more. The death rate among the intemperate on beer is about forty-six per 1000, while that of intemperate on spirits reaches the high average of sixty per 1000.

Professor Felix Adler defines in the November Forum the gospel of the Ethical societies which he founded.
What they preach, he says, is essentially this: "That good life is possible to all without the previous acceptance of any creed, irrespective of religious opinion, or philosophic theory; and that the way of righteousness is open and can be entered directly without a previous tread through the land of faith or philosophy."

This, he says, does not imply that belief in God or in Christ is denied.

It is pleasing to note that Miss Sadie Means, who was refused communion in Columbia because she worked three hours every Sunday in a telephone exchange, appealed her case from the Charleston presbytery to the South Carolina synod and won by a vote of 63 to 19. There are sixty-three members in the South Carolina synod that are not narrow-minded.

The collector of customs at Milwaukee was recently elected chairman of the Democratic county committee. He has not yet accepted, but the commissioner of internal revenue has notified
him that he cannot hold both positions.
It is safe to say that he will decline the chairmanship.

It appears probable that another election in New Jersey will be necessary, and thus the Republican victory last Tuesday will be turned to naught. The present legislative apportionment has been declared by the supreme court to be unconstitutional. Tuesday's elections were held under it, therefore they were void.

The editor of the Minneapolis Tribune says "he sat in a new game the other night." His readers are disappointed because he did not tell how much it cost him.

Deserved Defeat.
Kansas City Star: A party that thrust a tainted judge before the people deserves nothing less than a sweeping and comprehensive defeat. Some good men went down in the storm, but the fault was not their own. The vengeance of the people was directed against Tammany and the ring of politicians who are a menace to good government and a burden on the state. Their vengeance could not stop short of a clean sweep.
It was a glorious day's work.

Suspecting the Parson.
London Figure: There are untold tales told of them, apocryphal, of queer incidents at weddings, of their being united to the lady of his choice at a certain church, and just before the moment for the production of the ring arrived the officiating clergyman, leaned over toward the bride and whispered:
"Please take off your glove." To his intense dismay the bridegroom resented the action and cried: "Here, mister, no whispering to my girl!"

Make a Note of It.
Superior Telegram: Superior and Duluth want $1,000,000 for the harbor next year. Will you please make a note of this, Mr. Hansen? Call Mr. Baldwin's attention to it also.

On the Cowcatcher.
Lake Huron News: Last fall Dan Lawler said he did not come in on a cowcatcher. He now seems to have caught on to the cowcatcher all right.

To Kill the Odor of Tobacco.
Cincinnati Inquirer: It is stated that a pail of water containing a handful of hay infused in a room where there has been smoking, will absorb all the odor of the tobacco.

A Royal Third.
Boston Post: Why is it necessary to cable over the announcement that Queen Victoria sat through three dramatic performances at Balmoral last week? Has she formerly been in the habit of going out between the acts?

We Have To.
New York Recorder: Keep away from a community which is entirely peopled
by "prominent citizens."

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Last Week's Sudden Rise in Social Gaiety Followed This Week by an Awful Calm.

The Ladies' Relief Society Announces That the Charity Ball Will be Given on Nov. 28.

Many Concerts and Musicals Given This Week, Most of Them Last Evening—The Social Resume.

It is now plainly apparent, if it has not been before, that the sole cause of last week's social gaiety was Halloween, for the drop which the social thermometer has taken this week can be likened to that which ensues when a "norther" strikes a Texas Fahrenheit thermometer. There has been absolutely nothing doing this week outside of society meetings and musical events. Of the latter there have been many, and Duluth is fast becoming to attain a reputation for high musical taste and certainly deserves it. The annual charity ball of the Ladies' Relief society will be given on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at the Spaulding. This is an event which is always looked forward to with pleasant anticipations and there will be more than realized this year.

As the personal column shows, Duluth people are staying at home now. The world's fair travel all summer was immense but there is no more of it now. A few people have gone South and to California for the winter and others are preparing to go.

THE CHARITY BALL.

The Annual Ladies' Relief Society Event to Be Given on Nov. 28.

The Ladies' Relief society is sending out tickets for the annual charity ball which is to be given on Nov. 28. This is the only donation which the society solicits from business men generally and is the main source of its revenue. Heretofore the people of the city have been liberal in their support and the ladies hope that this year will be no exception. During this winter there will be far more work for the society than in previous ones. This is already apparent for the treasury is pretty low now. As a social event this year's ball will be made more than ordinarily interesting.

"THE MERCHANT OF VENICE."

A Brilliant Performance by the Modjeska Company.

The performance of "The Merchant of Venice" by Modjeska and her superb company at the Temple last evening was brilliant, artistic and finished. This was true, not merely of the work of the members but also of the staging and costuming. The scenery is of high artistic design and indicates a high artistic sense in the designer. The costumes are elegant and in all the appointments the play was magnificently staged. The audience was a large one although the house was not packed.

Modjeska's Portia is delightful in every way. Her presence is graceful and charming and a sweet womanly dignity always pervades it. She is natural and easy and above all artistic. The expressions which played over her face in the scene where Bassanio stands before the caskets making his choice were wonderful. In the court scene when she exhorts the Jew to be merciful and tells him of the sweet quality of mercy she rose to magnificence. Modjeska is a remarkably well preserved woman and no one would realize as she appears as Portia that nearly a half century has passed in her life.

But the real interest of the performance cannot be said to have centered in Modjeska's Portia. It is rather in Ous Shylock's Shylock. It is wonderful to see a man of such a rank as a coming, if not the coming, tragedian. He does not make of the old Jew the violent, ranting creature that some of the famous actors have, his work being more of a restrained and intense character.

One can look on his Shylock and pity although having no sympathy for him. In the court scene the devilish and malignant hatred of the Jew when he is told that the law gives him the pound of flesh nominated in the bond are magnificently controlled. It is there unmistakably, yet he seeks to repress and restrain it. In the scene with Portia also, he is restrained.

The supporting company is first class. Miss Proctor is an excellent Nerissa and Maude Durbin, a sweet and charming Jessica. Howard Kyle makes Gratiano the gay, jolly fellow that he was pictured by Shakespeare and was easy and natural in every scene.

Bassanio, Charles Collins as Antonio and Frederick Gust as Lorenzo were good. Ray Carter was very comical as Launcelot Gobbo.

The quartet singing was a novel feature and the numbers were finely rendered. Mr. Morris is the possessor of a natural tenor and gave some excellent solos.

This afternoon "The Merchant of Venice" was repeated and tonight "Marie Stuart" will be given.

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT.

Excellent Entertainment Given Last Evening by the Musical Society.

The High School Musical society concert last evening drew a large audience and the large auditorium was well filled. The chorus numbers were excellently given and greatly surprised the audience, so admirably is the large company of the Duluth High school club's selection were received with great enthusiasm.

The solos were all well received. Miss Anna Farrell sang "Shout U' praise" and was loudly applauded. Miss Eva Rockwell and Miss Florence Williams also gave solos and there were several duets and a sextet number. Professor Sherry's banjo solo was excellently rendered and Master Guy Williams' banjo solo pleased the audience. Miss Addie Sawyer's exhibition of Duluth exercises and pantomimes were something of a novelty and were very interesting. A quartet accompanied her.

CONNELLEY IS GUILTY

That Was the Decision of the Jury on the Tenth Ballot Taken at 8:40 O'Clock.

When the Verdict Was Read the ex-Priest's Nerve Never Deserted Him and He Simply Laughed.

The Result Seems to Meet With the Approval of Citizens Generally—The Other Cases.

James E. Connelley, the ex-Catholic priest, has been found guilty of the rape of Nellie Hannon in manner and form as charged in the indictment. The verdict was reached on the tenth ballot at 8:40 last evening. That the jury was agreed was communicated to the waiting court and in a few minutes the prisoner was brought in by Sheriff Sharkey.

Into the court room the jury came. Foreman John Moore at the head with the fateful slip of paper in his hands. After the court had examined the verdict it was read aloud by Clerk Sinclair: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty in manner and form as prescribed in the indictment." To the question, "Is this your verdict, gentlemen?" came the response, "It is," and Connelley stood a convicted criminal.

On the scene which has characterized the prisoner throughout the trial did not desert him at this critical point. He never changed color or turned a hair. He laughed, whispered to his attorney and in five minutes was back in his cell.

It is understood that the first ballot stood eight for conviction of rape and four for attempted rape. The views of the minority changed until the twelve were of one mind.

About the court house yesterday it was freely talked that the verdict would be a conviction and most looked for a speedy verdict. When the jury had been out an hour and called for more chairs it looked as if they were in for a long siege and there were many willing to wager that there would be a disagreement.

News of the verdict spread rapidly last night and everybody was talking about the ex-priest and his crime. There was almost unanimous approbation accorded the verdict.

County Attorney Dwan will not determine until Monday when the other Connelley case will be tried. He went to Two Harbors today to spend Sunday and the acquaintance of a new son that has arrived during his absence.

There are three other cases against Connelley—assault on March 10, rape on May 1, and jointly with Mrs. Mulally he is charged with abduction on May 26. The latter case is likely to be tried first.

CONNOLLEY TALKS.

A Herald Reporter Found Him Playing Solitaire This Morning.

Connelley, the convicted ex-Catholic priest, was seated this morning at the county jail by a Herald man. He occupies a corner cell in the lower tier with Bergenthal, the West Duluth forger. The ex-priest sat at a table intent upon a game of solitaire. He greeted the reporter pleasantly and showed himself as cool and self-possessed as ever.

"Was I surprised at the verdict? We thought that the evidence given by Nellie Hannon in the first examination would be accepted. That evidence contradicted the evidence at the trial."

"Another point the first charge preferred against me was by Bishop Gozlik for bastardy. Why do they change these charges?"

"The whole affair has grown out of financial troubles in our church at Two Harbors. When I went there there was no parish—only a mission. Even when I left we had not been incorporated. The actions of the trustees were not valid in law; that is, they could not be legally held responsible for their actions. County Attorney Dwan was secretary. He and some others wanted me to report on moneys every three months. I said it was usual to report only yearly. I agreed to report every six months, but they would not accept that."

"In April when I was sick Hannon and Dwan came to the house and said that they would prefer charges against me for drunkenness to the bishop unless they could see me and fix things up. Mrs. Mulally would not let them in to see me because I was too sick. Then they went on to Tower and made charges before Father Bush."

"They say Hannon and family and others told all kinds of lies about me. I told them it was none of their business what boxes and keys came to my house. Of course when I moved to the house next Hannon's I had a lot of boxes and things. We have altar wine, of course, you know. Well, it is usually shipped boxed up. The St. Paul house by mistake sent it in a keg and the story was circulated that I had a keg of whiskey. Then I used to get mineral water for my table use and they circulated the lie that the wagon delivered beer to me."

Connelley was born at Johnston, Fulton county, N. Y., nearly thirty-one years ago. He was ordained at St. Thomas' seminary, St. Paul, by Archbishop Ireland, March 14, 1892. He says he has no money to fight the case, and had depended on friends for funds for the trial just closed.

"Do you still maintain your innocence?" the reporter asked.

"I could maintain nothing else," was the reply.

Connelley referred to his troubles at Crookston and said that all charges were proven false, else the bishop would not have reinstated him in the same parish. He seems confident of eventually getting out of his troubles.

Attorney Baldwin says he will move for a new trial, and failing in that, appeal. It is reported also that an effort for a change of venue to St. Paul will be made.

The Hannon, including Nellie, and other witnesses for the state left this afternoon for Two Harbors.

Mrs. Robert H. Blackstone desires to thank the many friends who so kindly aided her in every way at the loss of her husband.

GALLANT IDA LEWIS.

America's Grace Darling, the Brave Woman Who Keeps the Lime Rock Light.

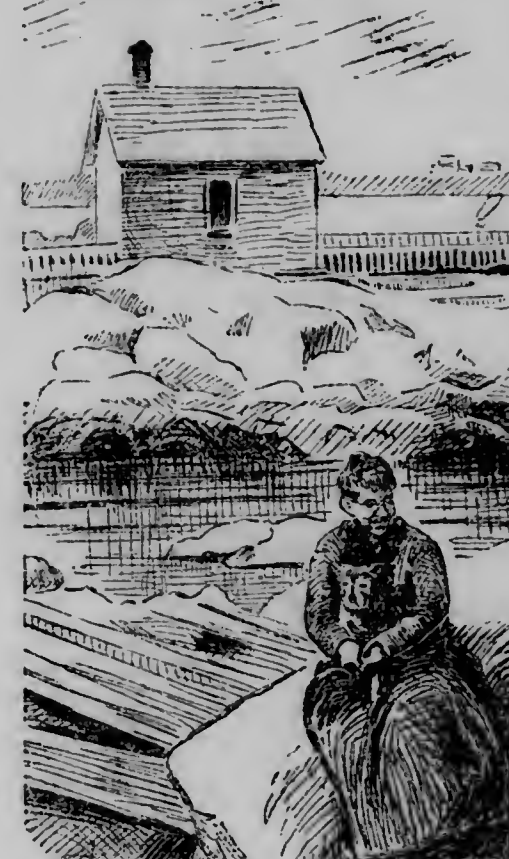

Her Boat, "The Rescue," Exhibited at the World's Fair—The Heroine Who Has Saved Eighteen Lives, Tells How Her Own Life Was Saved. Congress Gives Her a Gold Medal.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 10.—America's Grace Darling, the heroine of eighteen life-saving exploits, a woman for whom congress has cast a gold medal of the first class, the first of the kind ever given to a woman, keeps the Lime Rock light.

It was when the Russian warships were lying at peaceful anchor in Newport's beautiful harbor, that a small company from the Hotel Aquidneck went out in a sailboat to pay a visit to this

"I have always been miserable in summer, and I believe I should have died this season if I had not taken Paine's celery compound. I began with it last February, and this summer I have been splendid," and her eyes flashed as she longer take it the better I get. I have to live economically, and I do all my own housework, washing and ironing, and even the painting of the woodwork outside. I enjoy doing it now, but I believe I should be dead if I had not taken Paine's celery compound." Besides the gold medal presented her by the United States of America, a silver medal was presented by the humane society of Massachusetts: "To Ida Lewis, the heroine of Lime Rock, for her many heroic and successful efforts saving human lives." Another, also a silver, was presented by the life saving benevolent association of New York. "To Miss Ida Lewis, as a testimonial of her skill, courage, and humanity in rescuing two men in the harbor of Newport, N. I., during a severe storm."

brave woman, whose lifeboat, the Rescue, has been one of the most talked-of exhibits at the World's fair. The story told by Miss Lewis of how her own life has been saved, amply repaid the visitors for their journey.

The Lime Rock lighthouse, the home of this world-famous heroine, is within the harbor, and is a short sail from the New York Yacht club's house. At high tide an ordinary cat-boated sailboat can land at Lime Rock, and a rowboat must be used, from which a landing is effected by climbing up the face of the perpendicular rock upon a ladder lashed with fetters of iron to the stone.

At low tide the rowboat is guided toward a pebbly beach through the sword grass that grows against its sides like slashing martial blades.

But the lighthouse is the blessed symbol of peace on earth and sea, saving sailors and fishermen from the wrecked mariners. And the fair woman to whom the visitors listened told a true narrative for every other brave and good woman in the country to heed and profit by.

Ida Lewis looks to be in her thirties as to age, with a highly nervous temperament, slight figure, bright eyes, with a dash of color in her face.

"It is thirty-five years since we came to Lime Rock, six in family, and now there are but two of us left, my brother Rudolph, who helped you up the rocks, and myself," said she. "My father was a carpenter for seventeen years, and I never cut a nail of wood for myself."

"I have never been well in my life until now. My trouble was in my chest and lungs, and I have always had a cough from a child. What has done me more good than anything else in the world is Paine's celery compound."

tried so many patent medicines that I dreaded the summer. But I read about Paine's celery compound and went to see the gentlemen who tested, and they were loud in its praise. My brother Rudolph said that I had better not try it as I would feel worse than ever, but I went ahead; it seemed as if the Lord believe I should be dead if I had not taken Paine's celery compound." Besides the gold medal presented her by the United States of America, a silver medal was presented by the humane society of Massachusetts: "To Ida Lewis, the heroine of Lime Rock, for her many heroic and successful efforts saving human lives." Another, also a silver, was presented by the life saving benevolent association of New York. "To Miss Ida Lewis, as a testimonial of her skill, courage, and humanity in rescuing two men in the harbor of Newport, N. I., during a severe storm."

Not only on these several special occasions, however, has Miss Lewis shown the courage and fortitude that have made her famous, but also in the faithfulness and regularity with which her daily round of duties are performed, for they are not few. No lighthouse on the coast is better kept than hers, and not one has a better record.

"People think, when they come and find things in perfect order, that there is nothing to do here," she said. "But they do not know how early we start in the morning and how many little things there are to be done. The lamps have to be cleaned every day, the lenses kept clean, and the brasses polished, to say nothing of keeping the house in order."

Not alone are the "brasses polished" on the light, but on the shining copper pump in the kitchen and the row of brass candlesticks on the mantle behind the stove all testify to the success and the success of the thrifty champion of life and strength.

Ida Lewis is called the bravest woman in America. But there are many brave women who have suffered as she has done, who are nearly broken down, who need today a true food for the brain and nerves, and whom Paine's celery compound will make well again. Thousands of other women have been saved by this wonderful remedy.

directed me, and I received benefit from the very first bottle.

"O, you should have seen me last summer. I was short of breath, easily tired out, and had a cough and night sweats, and my doctor told me I had heart trouble. I was so thin, and I was wearing black, and my friends said that I looked like a little ghost. Now I am excellent, and I feel proud to tell it and give the credit to Paine's celery compound."

went on to Tower and made charges before Father Bush.

They say Hannon and family and others told all kinds of lies about me. I told them it was none of their business what boxes and keys came to my house. Of course when I moved to the house next Hannon's I had a lot of boxes and things. We have altar wine, of course, you know. Well, it is usually shipped boxed up. The St. Paul house by mistake sent it in a keg and the story was circulated that I had a keg of whiskey. Then I used to get mineral water for my table use and they circulated the lie that the wagon delivered beer to me."

Connelley was born at Johnston, Fulton county, N. Y., nearly thirty-one years ago. He was ordained at St. Thomas' seminary, St. Paul, by Archbishop Ireland, March 14, 1892. He says he has no money to fight the case, and had depended on friends for funds for the trial just closed.

"Do you still maintain your innocence?" the reporter asked.

"I could maintain nothing else," was the reply.

Connelley referred to his troubles at Crookston and said that all charges were proven false, else the bishop would not have reinstated him in the same parish. He seems confident of eventually getting out of his troubles.

Attorney Baldwin says he will move for a new trial, and failing in that, appeal. It is reported also that an effort for a change of venue to St. Paul will be made.

The Hannon, including Nellie, and other witnesses for the state left this afternoon for Two Harbors.

Mrs. Robert H. Blackstone desires to thank the many friends who so kindly aided her in every way at the loss of her husband.

IS AGAINST DAWKINS

Acting Land Commissioner Bowers Decides For the Contestant in James M. Gray vs. James C. Dawkins.

Dawkins' Entry Was Canceled by the Local Officials Last May and Preference Awarded Gray.

Claim Set up That He Had Not Resided on the Land Nor Made Improvements.

The local United States land office this morning received the decision of Assistant Commissioner Bowers in the case of James M. Gray vs. James C. Dawkins, involving the homestead entry of lands in section 1, of 1, of the defendant. On Sept. 6, 1892, Dawkins published notice of his intention to make final proof on Oct. 24, 1892. On Oct. 24, Gray appeared with his counsel, but Dawkins failed to show up. On Oct. 27, Dawkins appeared and filed a motion to dismiss all proceedings and that a new notice of intention to make such a proof be issued. Dawkins also alleged that he or his witness failed to appear unless paid a sum of money not due him. A new notice was issued and published and Dawkins set for the day of final proof.

November 2, Gray filed another protest and affidavit of contest, alleging that the said James C. Dawkins has never made an actual settlement upon the above described lands. The said James C. Dawkins has never established a residence upon the said land, and is seeking to acquire title thereto through fraud and by false representation. The said James C. Dawkins has resided all the time since making his entry on the said land in the city of Superior, Wis., and is the leading dry goods merchant in that place, and that the said James C. Dawkins is the same person who has for several months past advertised his business so extensively in the Duluth newspapers.

Mr. Bowers then reviews the further history of the case. The defendant, apparently adopted dilatory tactics, and on Jan. 3, 1893, attempted to secure continuance by an affidavit as to inability to secure witnesses before May 14, 1893. The register denied Dawkins' motion and ordered that the case proceed. Gray then asked to cross-examine Dawkins and his witness named Frost, but that was refused by Dawkins and he withdrew from the case. Gray then introduced his witnesses and submitted their testimony.

May 9 a decision was rendered by the local officials finding that at the time Dawkins made his entry, he was at the head of a large dry goods establishment in Superior, Wis., where he was then and ever since has been as a permanent resident; that he made the short visits to his claim after the entry, but at no time did he reside thereon and that he had no house fit for habitation nor cleared or cultivated any part of it; that the small, unrefined shanty was not built by Dawkins, but by Gordon, an explorer, and two half breeds; that Gray proved the allegations; and that Dawkins' entry be cancelled and that the preference to enter the same be awarded to Gray.

Gray's Dawkins filed his appeal, assenting ten points of error. The assistant commissioner then quotes precedents and rules of the department in answer to the defendant's points of error, and proceeds: "In the case of Gray vs. Dawkins had published notice of his intention to make a final proof. Before the day of taking proof Gray filed his protest and affidavit of contest and on the day for making proof deposited the money to pay the costs of a hearing. Dawkins did not appear on the day appointed, but did so seven days after, and himself and two witnesses testified, and one witness was cross-examined by Gray at his own expense, and in the language used by Dawkins, the further hearing of the matter adjourned to Jan. 3, 1893. Dawkins, on Dec. 20, 1892, filed a motion for a continuance to obtain final proof, which was overruled, and on Jan. 3, 1893, renewed the motion, which was denied on Gray's admissions as to the testimony that would be offered. Dawkins refused to allow himself or his witnesses to be cross-examined and stated that he would withdraw his proof and himself from the case, and claims that he never, in fact, submitted any final proof.

In the case of Bown vs. Gistman, 14 L. D. 516, the honorable secretary says: "An entryman cannot be allowed to trifle in this way. The fact that he tore up the papers and makes out that he never attempted to make any proof whatever of his entry before the clerk, does not alter the case nor change the facts. His cross-examination, signed by himself, is before me. He attempted to make proof in the face of an adverse claimant to a portion of the land and he must stand or fall by it."

These two cases are so analogous as to admit of no distinction, and I am, therefore, constrained to hold that the errors assigned are not well taken.

There are no errors of fact alleged, but an examination of the testimony shows that the evidence sustains your finding of facts, except in one particular where you find that: "Even the small unrefined shanty that was built upon his claim was not the result of his labor, but was erected by Gordon, the explorer, and the half-breed Indians." The evidence shows that the shanty was built at Dawkins' request, for which he paid $30, and does not bear out the

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Classes Are Crowded This Year—Physical Culture Work.

One disadvantage in High school work this year is the crowded condition of many of the classes. One Latin class has fifty-two members, and several classes in mathematics possess from forty to fifty members. In general English several sections number forty pupils each.

Professor Alletzhauser has not done any work at the Central High school yet this year because of his sickness last summer. He has given all his time to the ward schools but next week he will commence at the High school in physical culture. Two sections will be organized, one for boys and one for girls.

Next Saturday the High school teachers will go to Virginia for an outing. They will inspect the mines at that point and get acquainted with that locality generally. President Merritt of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway has offered the use of his private car, which has been accepted with great pleasure.

A "HOLD UP MAN."

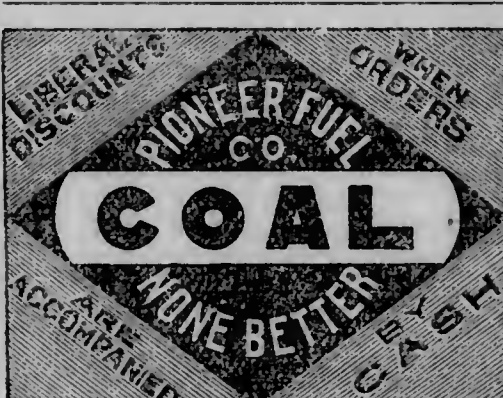

Police Think They Have One in the Person of a Vagrant.

In police court this morning, John Buchanan was arraigned on the charge of vagrancy. He pleaded not guilty. The officers, however, think that he is a dangerous fellow and that it is an important arrest. It is thought that he is a "hold up man," and that he has been playing his nefarious calling down on St. Croix avenue, selecting for his victims men who would be robbed and suffer in silence rather than report to the police and thereby let the public know that they had been frequenting such disreputable places.

Charles Biege for driving on a sidewalk, paid $5, and William Comery, up for vagrancy, got a punishment of five days in jail.

VERDICT AGAINST BOND.

Jury Awards Charles P. Craig the Amount Asked For.

In the case of Charles P. Craig against William C. Bond, the jury reached a decision last night and handed in a sealed verdict for plaintiff for $385. It appearing to the court that they had neglected to compute interest they were sent back for that purpose and on returning to the court the verdict was increased by $48.65.

It is expected that the grand jury will complete its work this afternoon and adjourn. A batch of indictments was brought in yesterday afternoon. The only ones given out for publication are against James M. Allen and John Donovan, both grand larceny in the second degree. All those indicted by the grand jury who have been arrested are being arraigned this afternoon.

Jorgan Jeronimus pleaded not guilty before Judge Lewis yesterday afternoon. The little girl he is accused of shooting was at the court house this morning to draw her fees as witness before the grand jury. She is a little bit of a tot, quite pretty and as bright and lively as a cricket despite the fact that the bullet came near cutting short her earthly career.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface, such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them.
